Long ago, in the city of Rome,
there lived a mighty ruler.
His name was Nero.

He thought he was a god,
but the Christians knew he wasn't.
So Nero hated them.

One day there was a great fire.
Nero said the Christians started it,
and he sent his cruel soldiers after them.

Marcus, Justin, and Anna
lost their parents during the fire.
Ben the baker and his wife, Helena, took them into their home.
There, in a time of great danger,
they told the children stories about Jesus.

This book is based on the adventures of the Storykeepers.

There are all sorts of activities for children of all ages to enjoy in the Storykeepers Activity Book.

Can you spot ten differences between these pictures?

FACT BOX
In A.D. 64 Rome was the most important city in the world. It had paved roads, running water, public baths, beautiful temples, and huge sports arenas.

...there lived a baker, Ben,
and his wife, Helena.

There are six circles missing

BEN'S COOKBOOK

Ben baked bread for the Roman army.

Here is a recipe for Roman army bread. Perhaps someone can help you to make it?

ROMAN ARMY BREAD

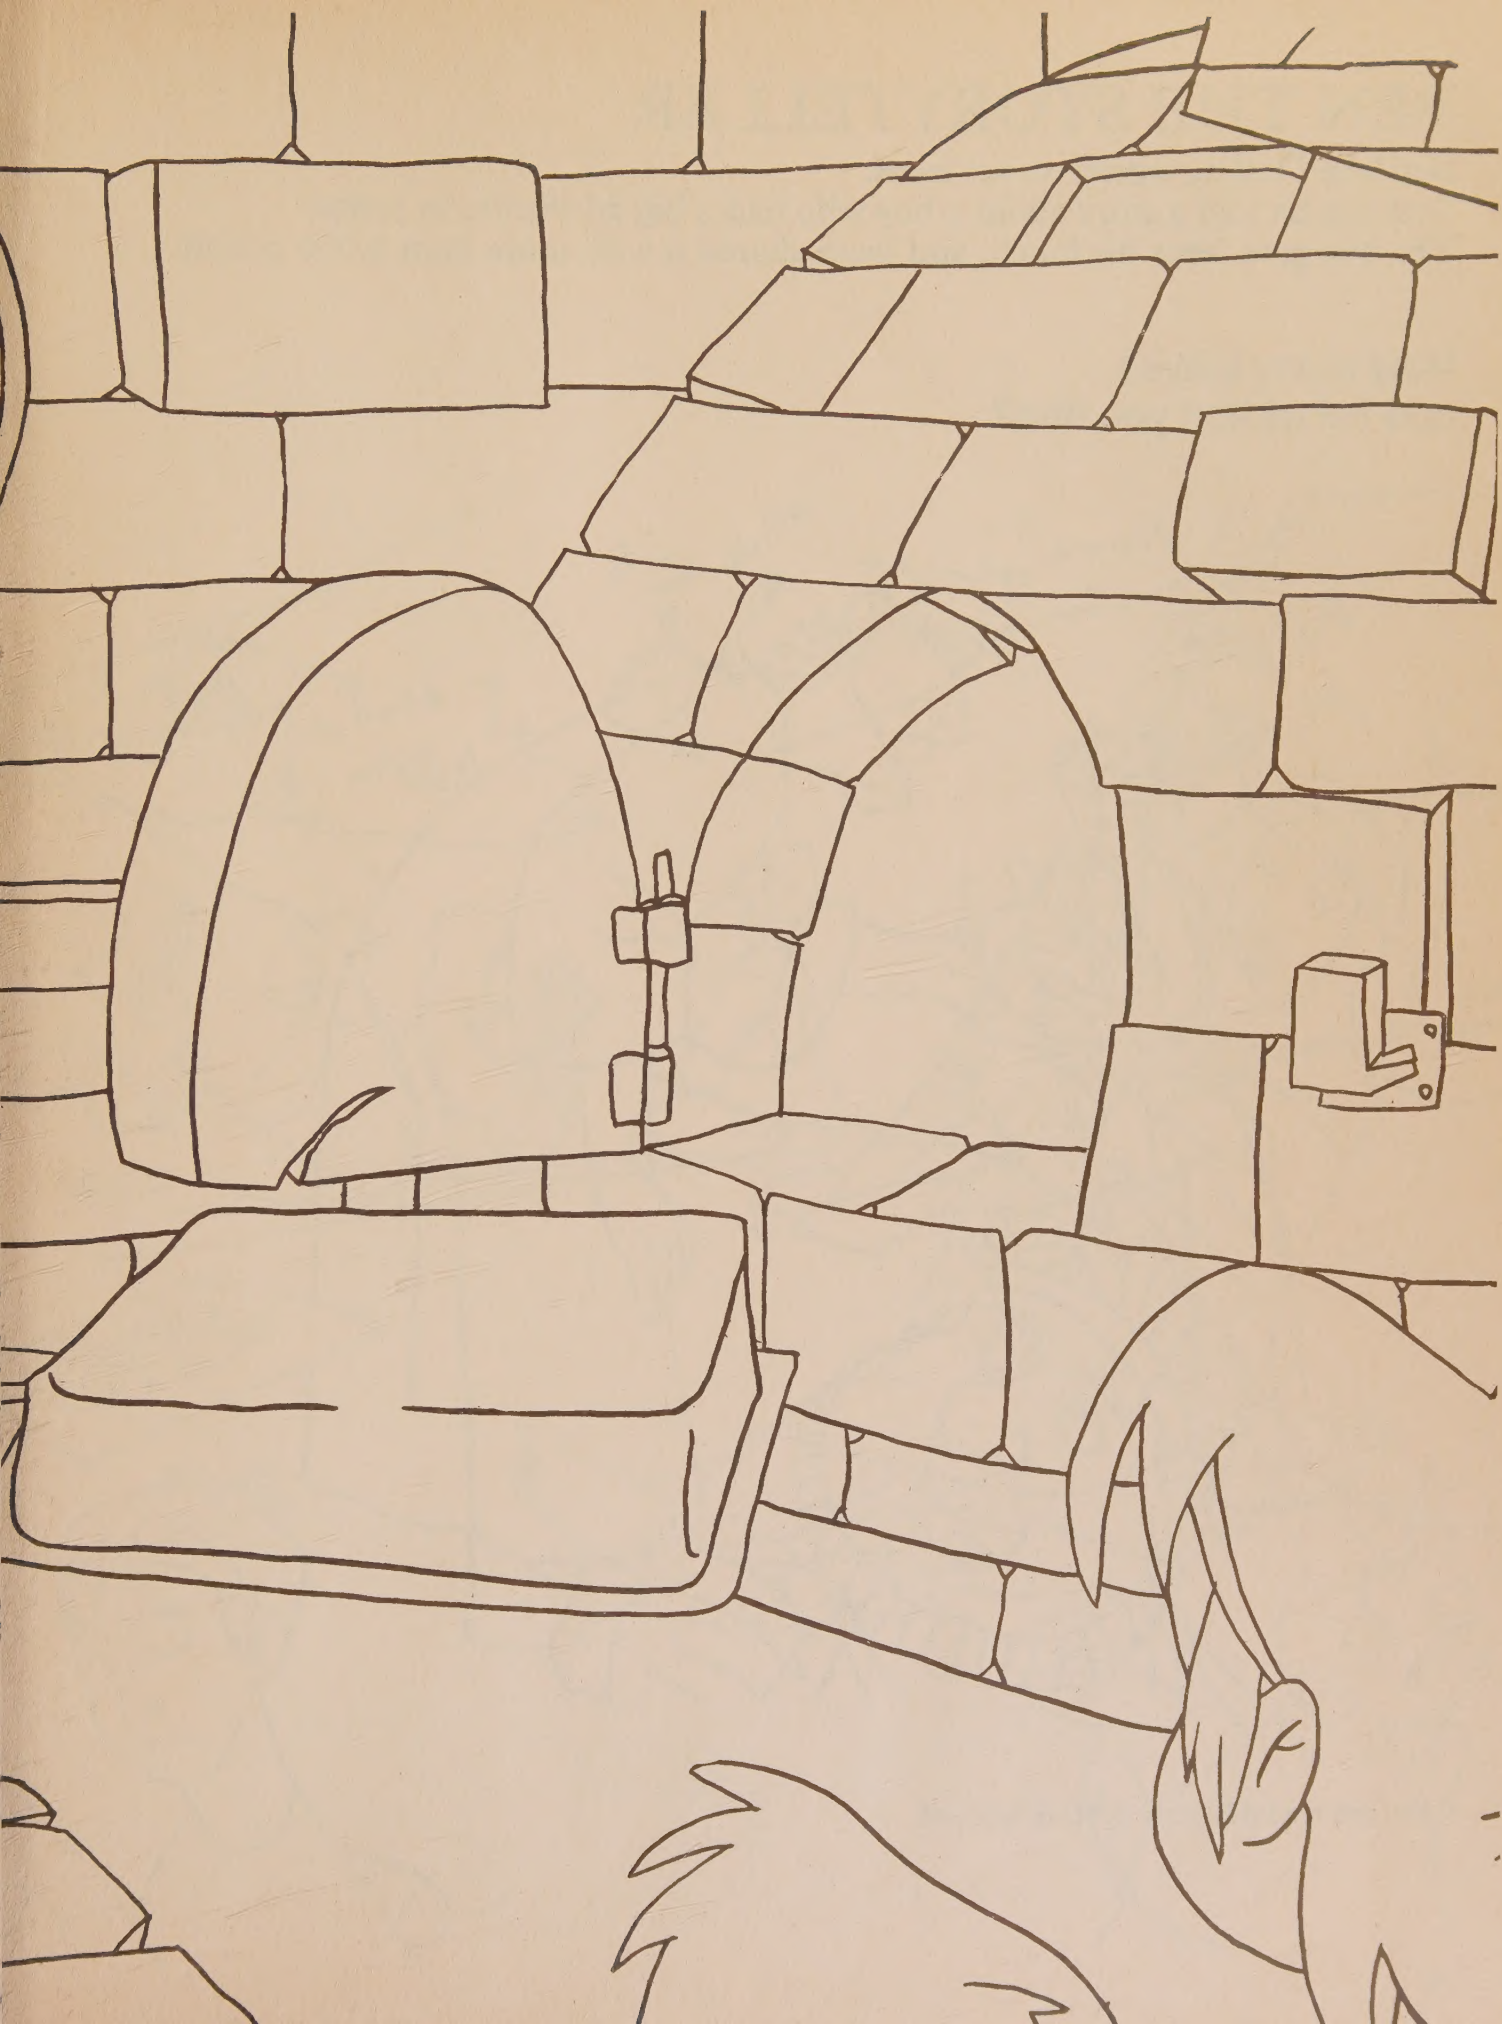

- 1 pound of spelt flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon of olive oil
- $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce (15 grams) of fresh yeast
- 1 U.S. pint (400ml) of warm water
- 1 teaspoon of honey

1. Put the flour in a large mixing bowl.
2. Blend the yeast and the honey into half the water, and roughly mix into the flour.
3. Dissolve the salt into the remaining warm water and add to the flour.
4. Also add the oil.
5. Mix the soft dough strongly for 4 minutes using a wooden spoon.
6. Grease a large baking tray and dust with flour. Turn out the dough in one piece onto the baking tray and dust with flour.
7. Leave to rise in a warm place for 20–30 minutes until the dough has risen to about twice its size.
8. Pre-heat oven to 150 degrees C or 370 degrees F (Mark 5) and bake the bread in it for 35 minutes. A fully cooked loaf will sound hollow when tapped underneath.
9. Cool loaf on a wire rack.

FACT BOX

The Romans usually used wild flour, which today is called spelt. If you want to make some Roman bread, you may be able to buy some. If not, you can use wholemeal flour.

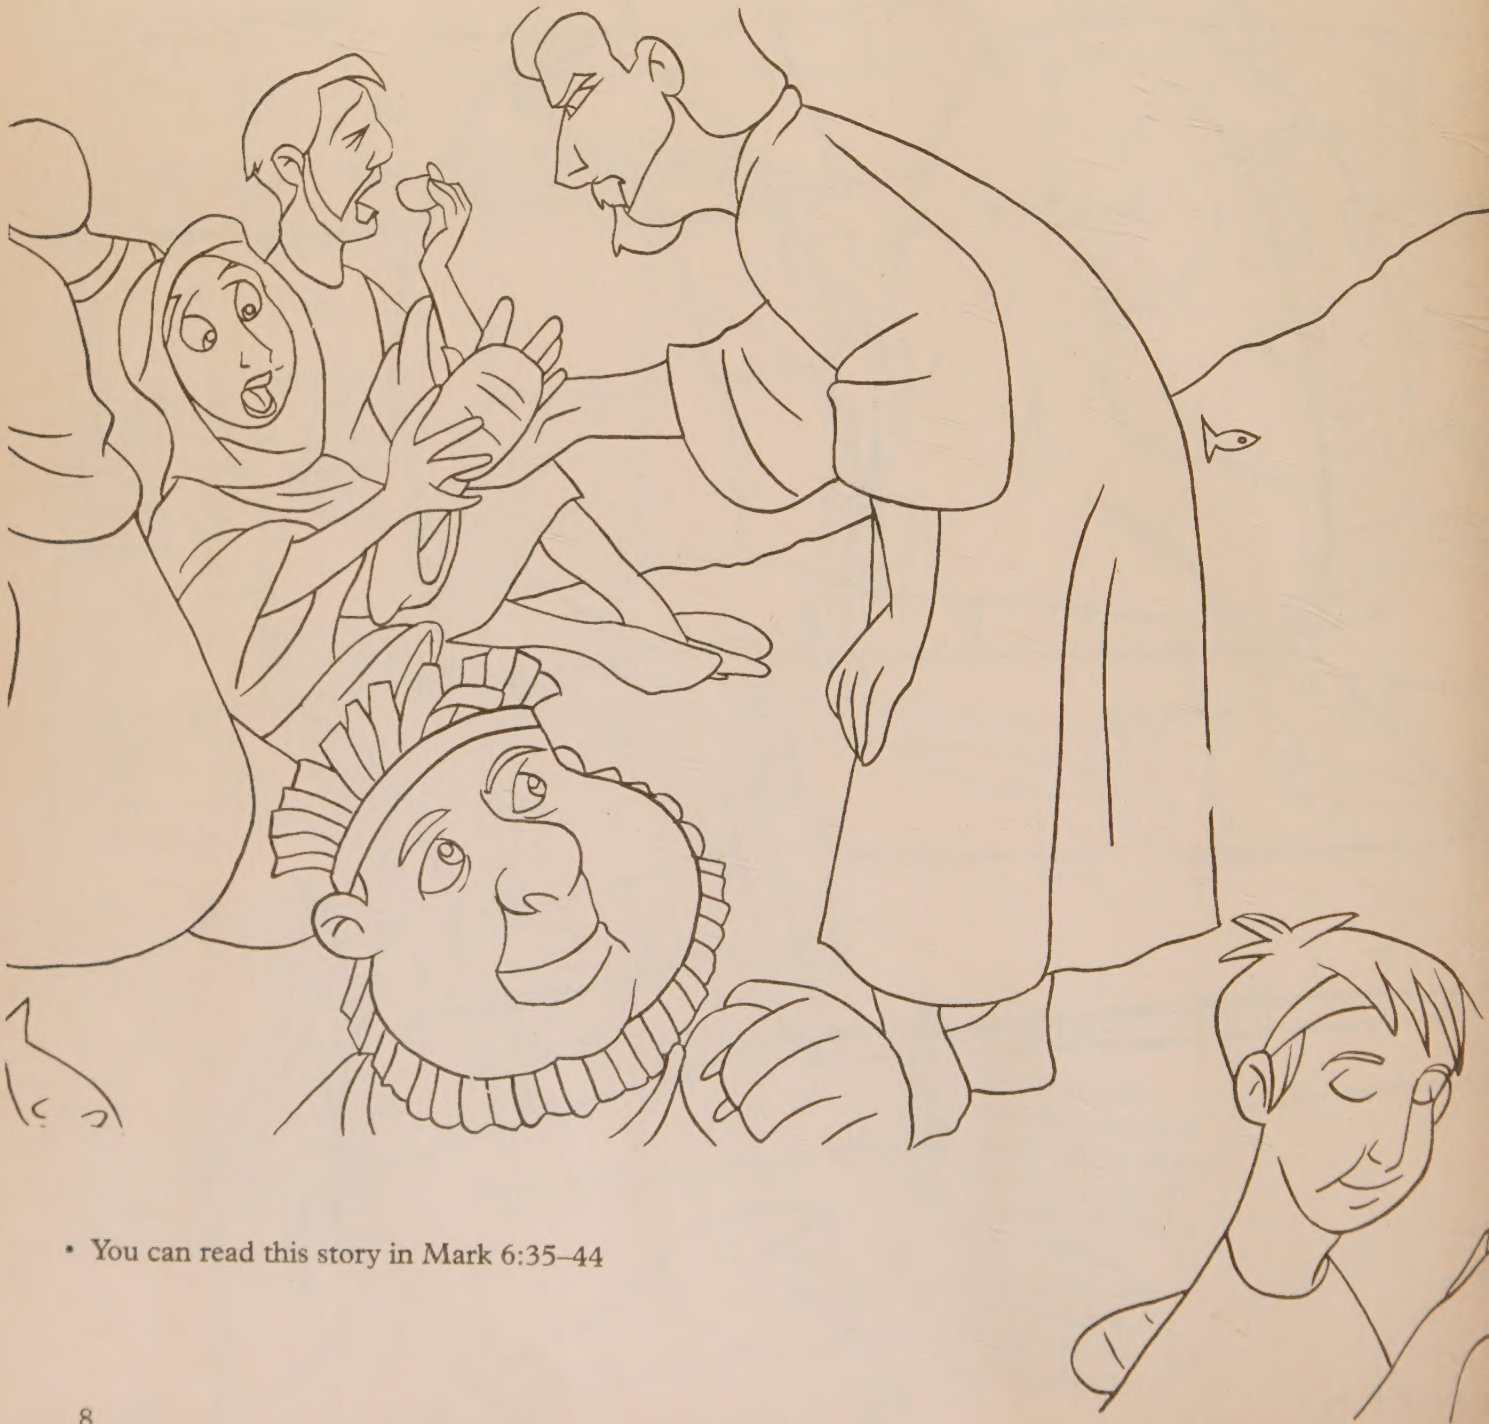

BEN THE STORYTELLER

Ben loved telling stories about Jesus.

One day he told a story about a boy who had a big adventure in Judea.

The boy gave Jesus his lunch, and Jesus shared it with more than 5,000 people.

How many loaves and fishes can you find?

• You can read this story in Mark 6:35-44

•FINISH•

ZAK'S ESCAPE

Zak thought he could be like the Zealots and fight against the Romans. But he usually ended up running away. Here he is being chased through Rome.

Which way should Zak go to get back to Ben's bakery?

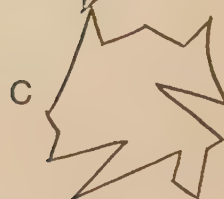

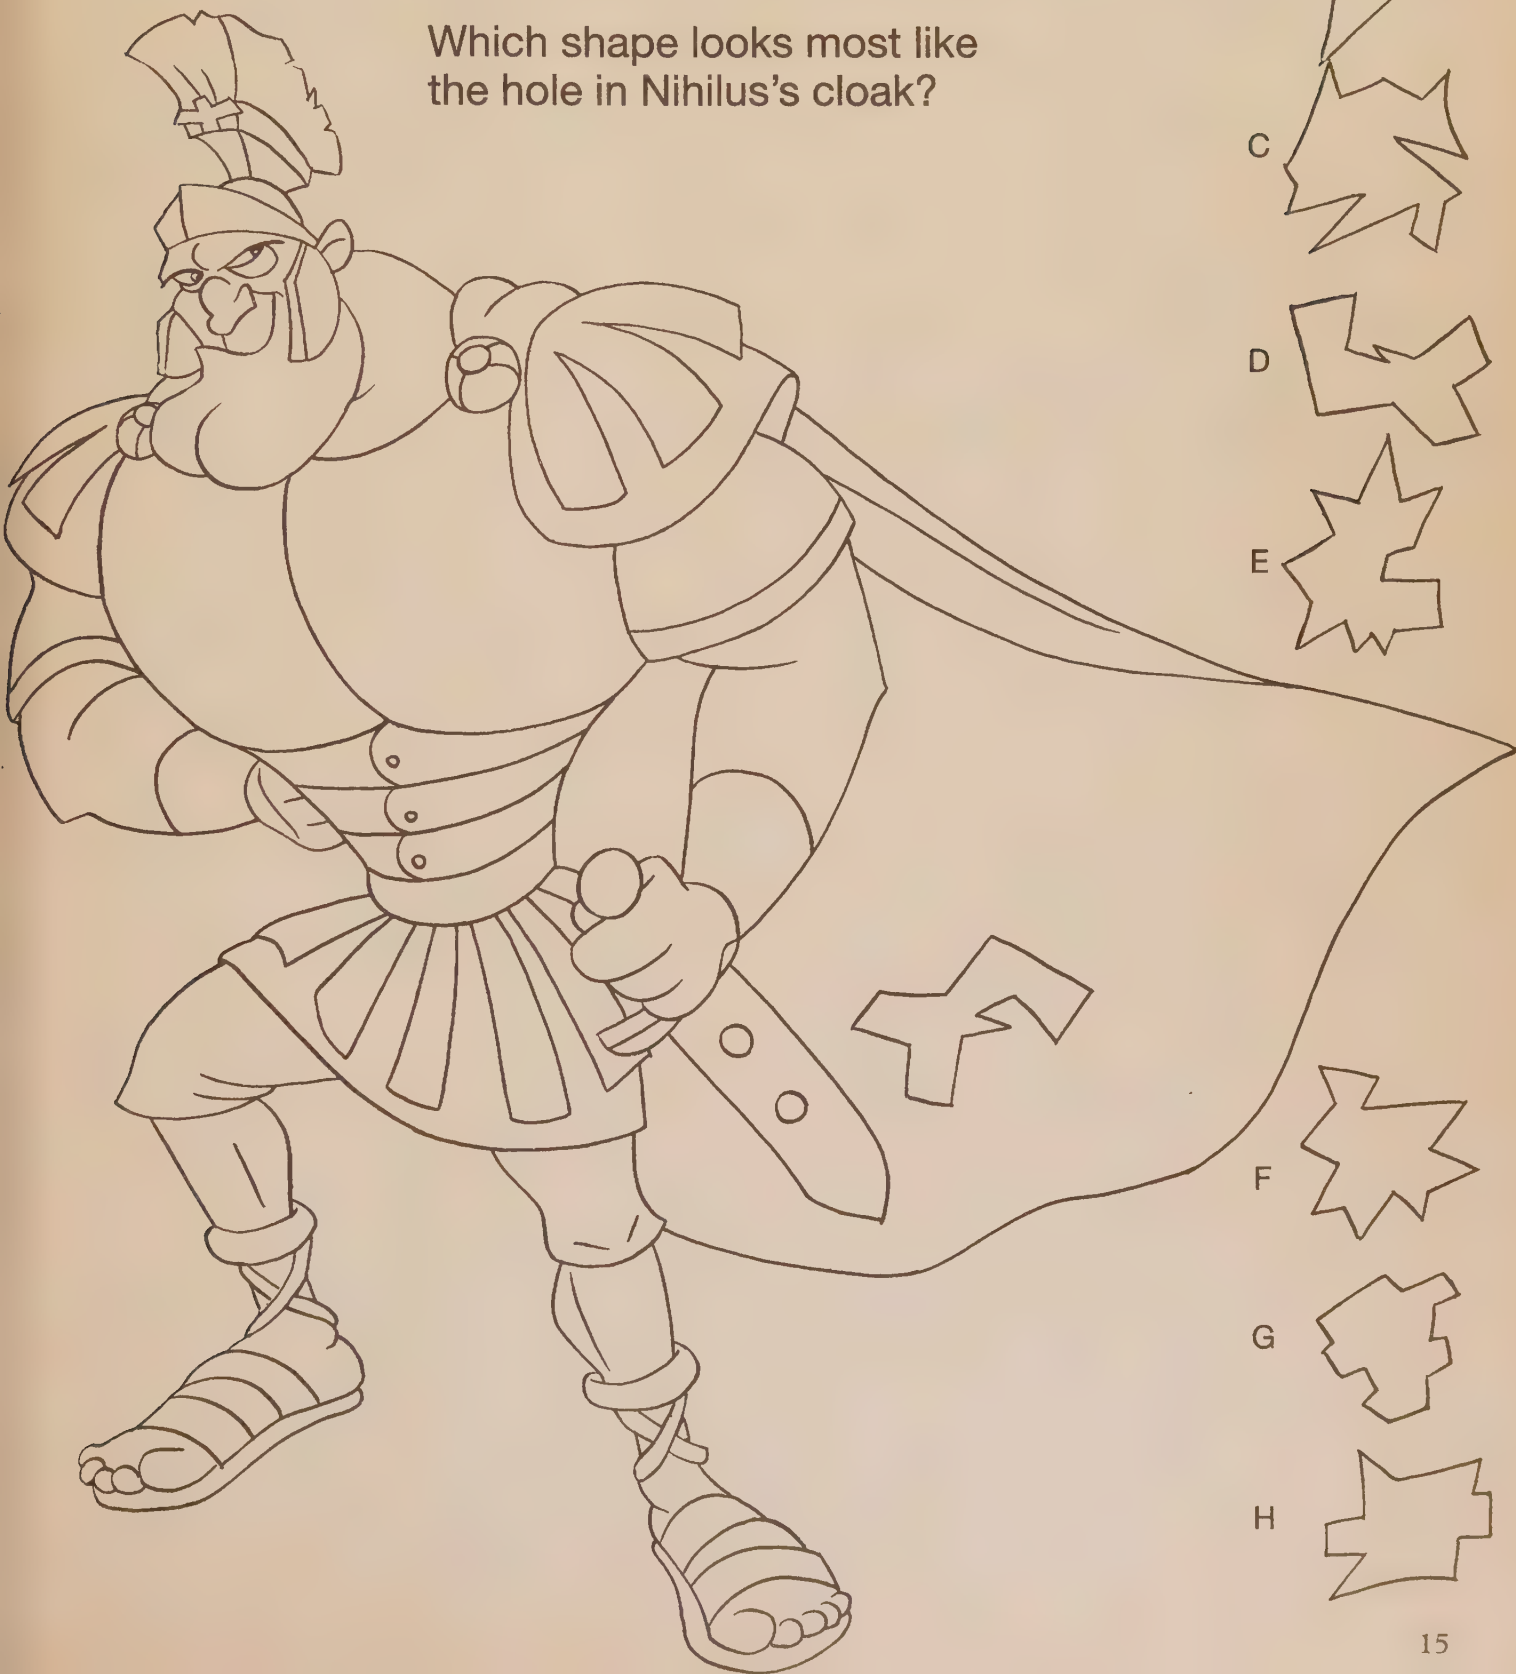

FACT BOX

In A.D. 66 a group of people in Judea called Zealots rose up against the Romans. They had been planning to do this for a long time, because the Romans had taken over their country. They did not defeat the Romans, but they were very brave. Zak wanted to be like these freedom fighters.

NIHILUS'S CLOAK

Nihilus is the meanest of all Nero's soldiers.
At the moment he is madder than usual because a dog has ripped a hole in his cloak.

Which shape looks most like the hole in Nihilus's cloak?

TACTICUS'S SHIELD

Here is Tacticus. He has an unusual shield, covered with triangles.

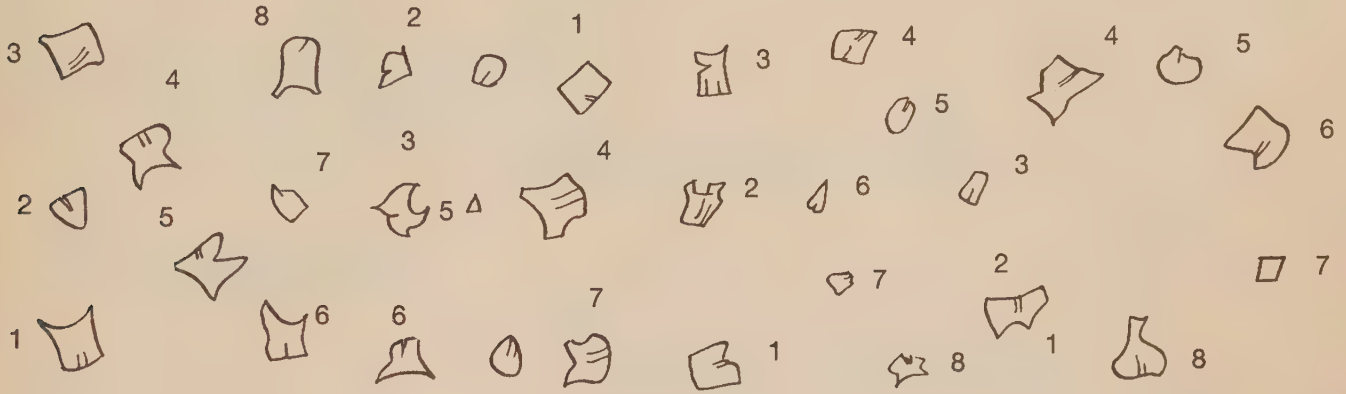

Can you find more than 200 triangles in Tacticus's shield?

STOUTICUS'S TEETH

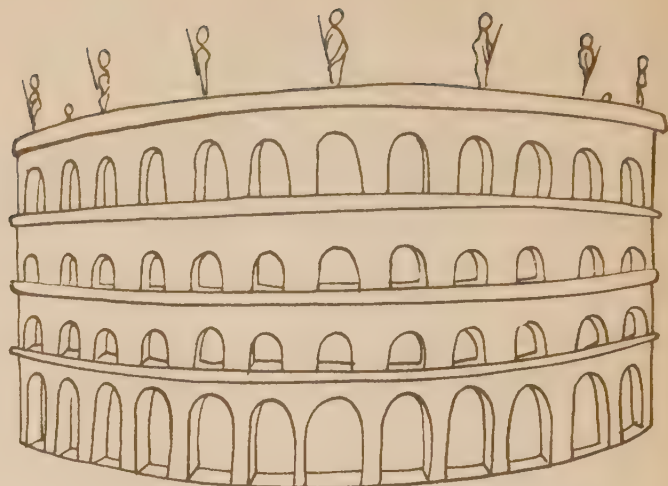

Stouticus, one of Nero's soldiers, is greedy and fat.
He has a huge weakness for Ben's cakes.

Stouticus bit into a scroll hidden inside one of Ben's cakes and broke a tooth. Join up the teeth to see who Stouticus is frightened of.

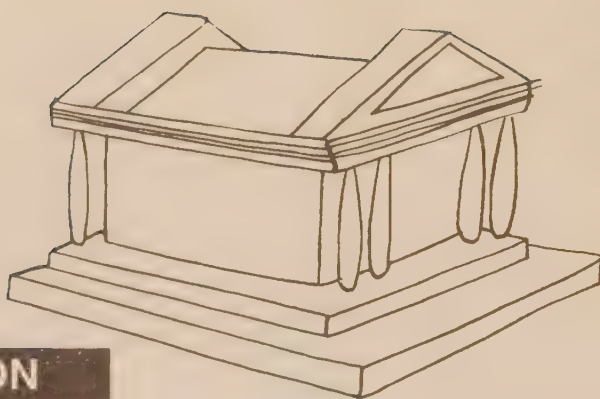

CATAPULTS

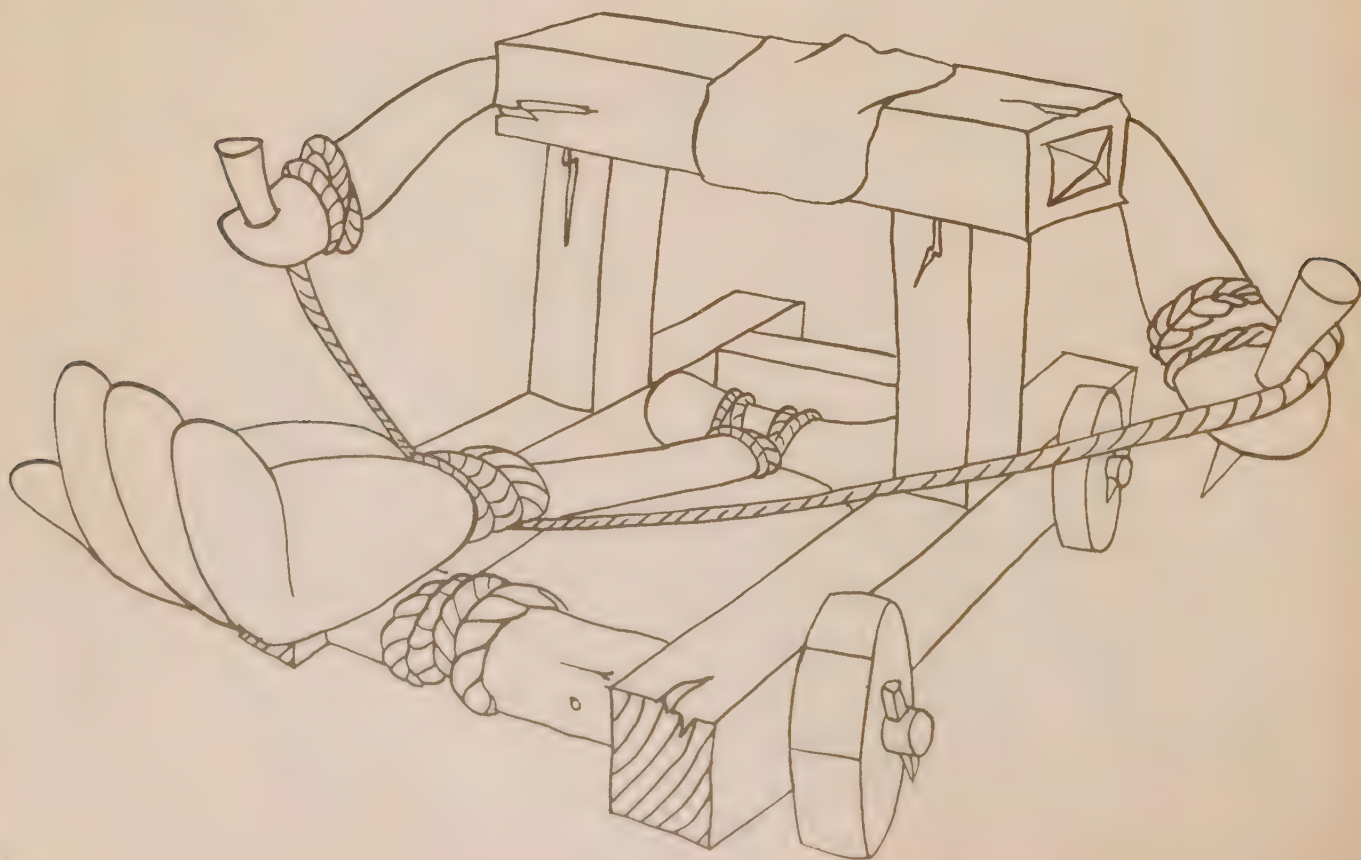

Which stone will hit the building?

COLOSSEUM

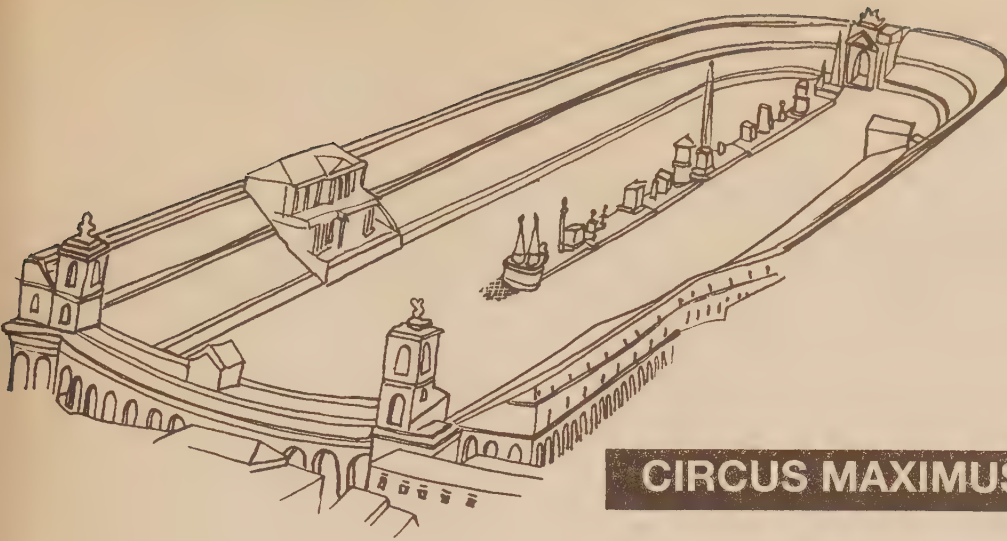

PANTHEON

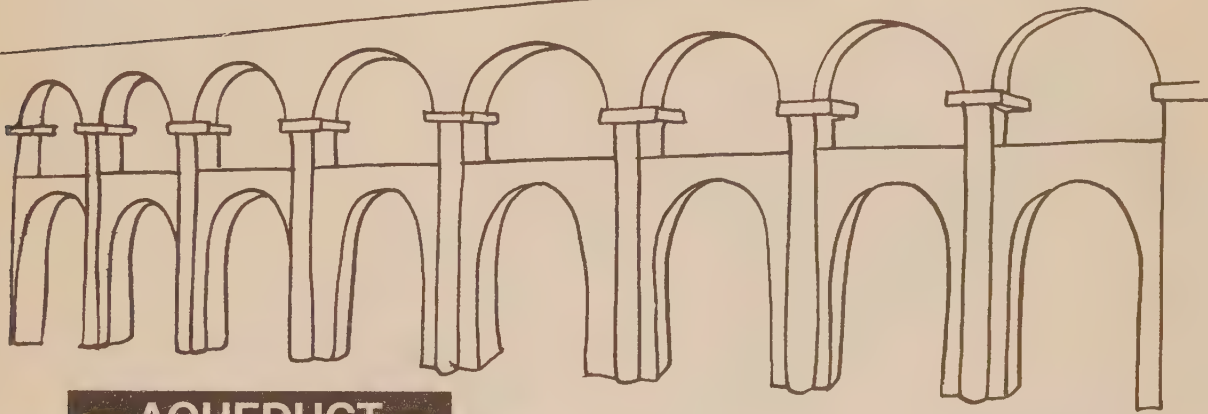

FACT BOX

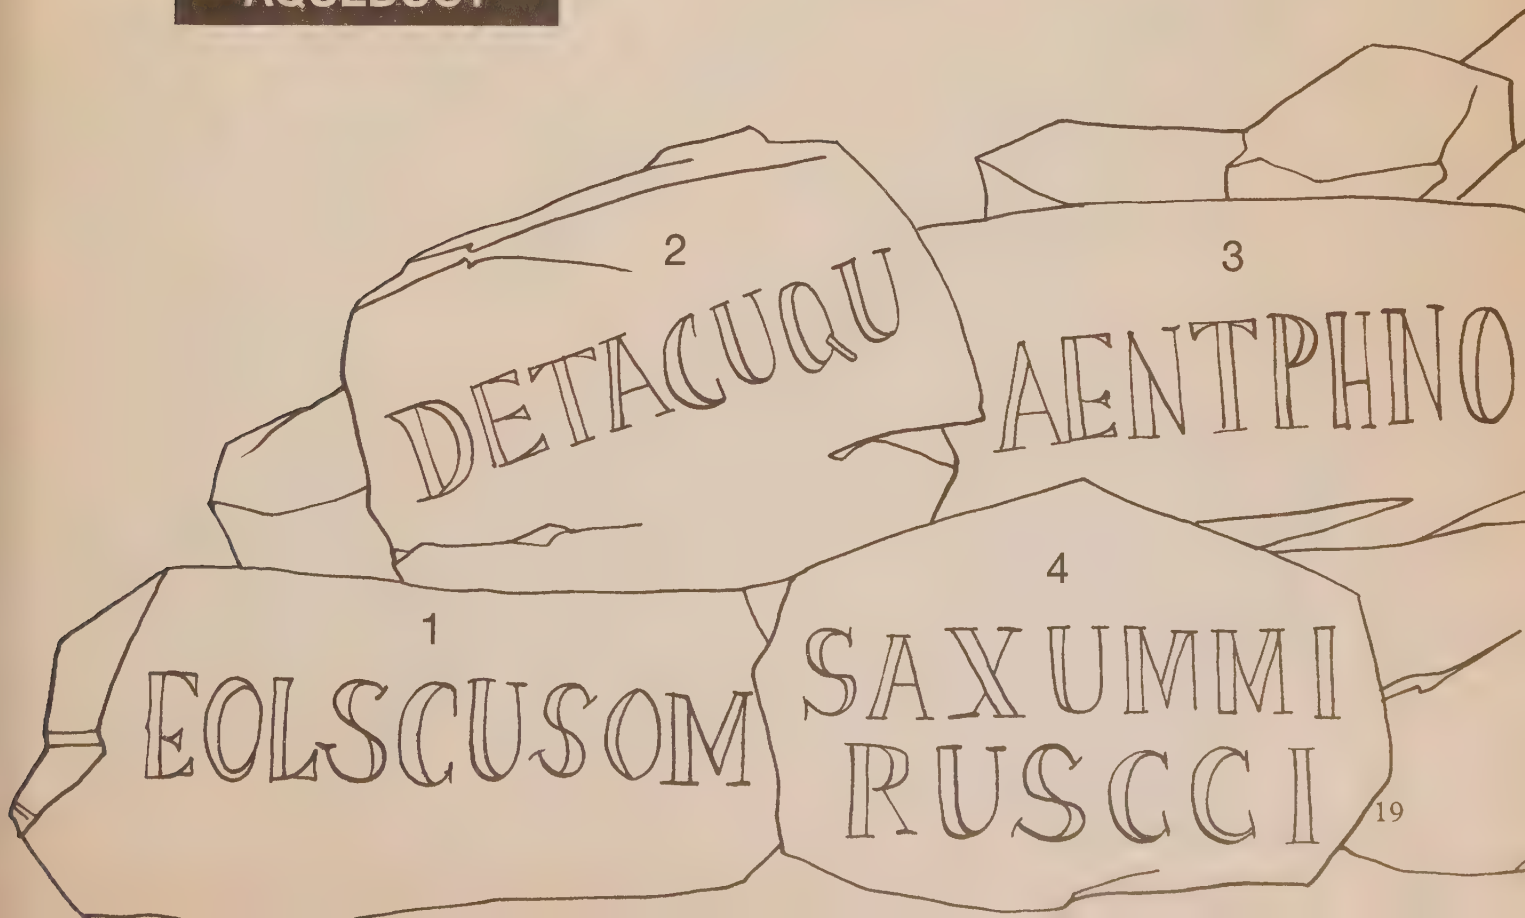

The Roman soldiers had many weapons which they used to attack their enemies. One which they used to attack walls and buildings was the catapult, which could hurl large stones a very long way.

CIRCUS MAXIMUS

GIGANTICUS!

Join the dots to see Giganticus.

FACT BOX

The Roman emperor organized entertainment for the crowds in the arena. Gladiators had to fight each other, or wild animals, or Christians, while the people clapped and cheered. The gladiators were armed and trained to fight; the Christians were not.

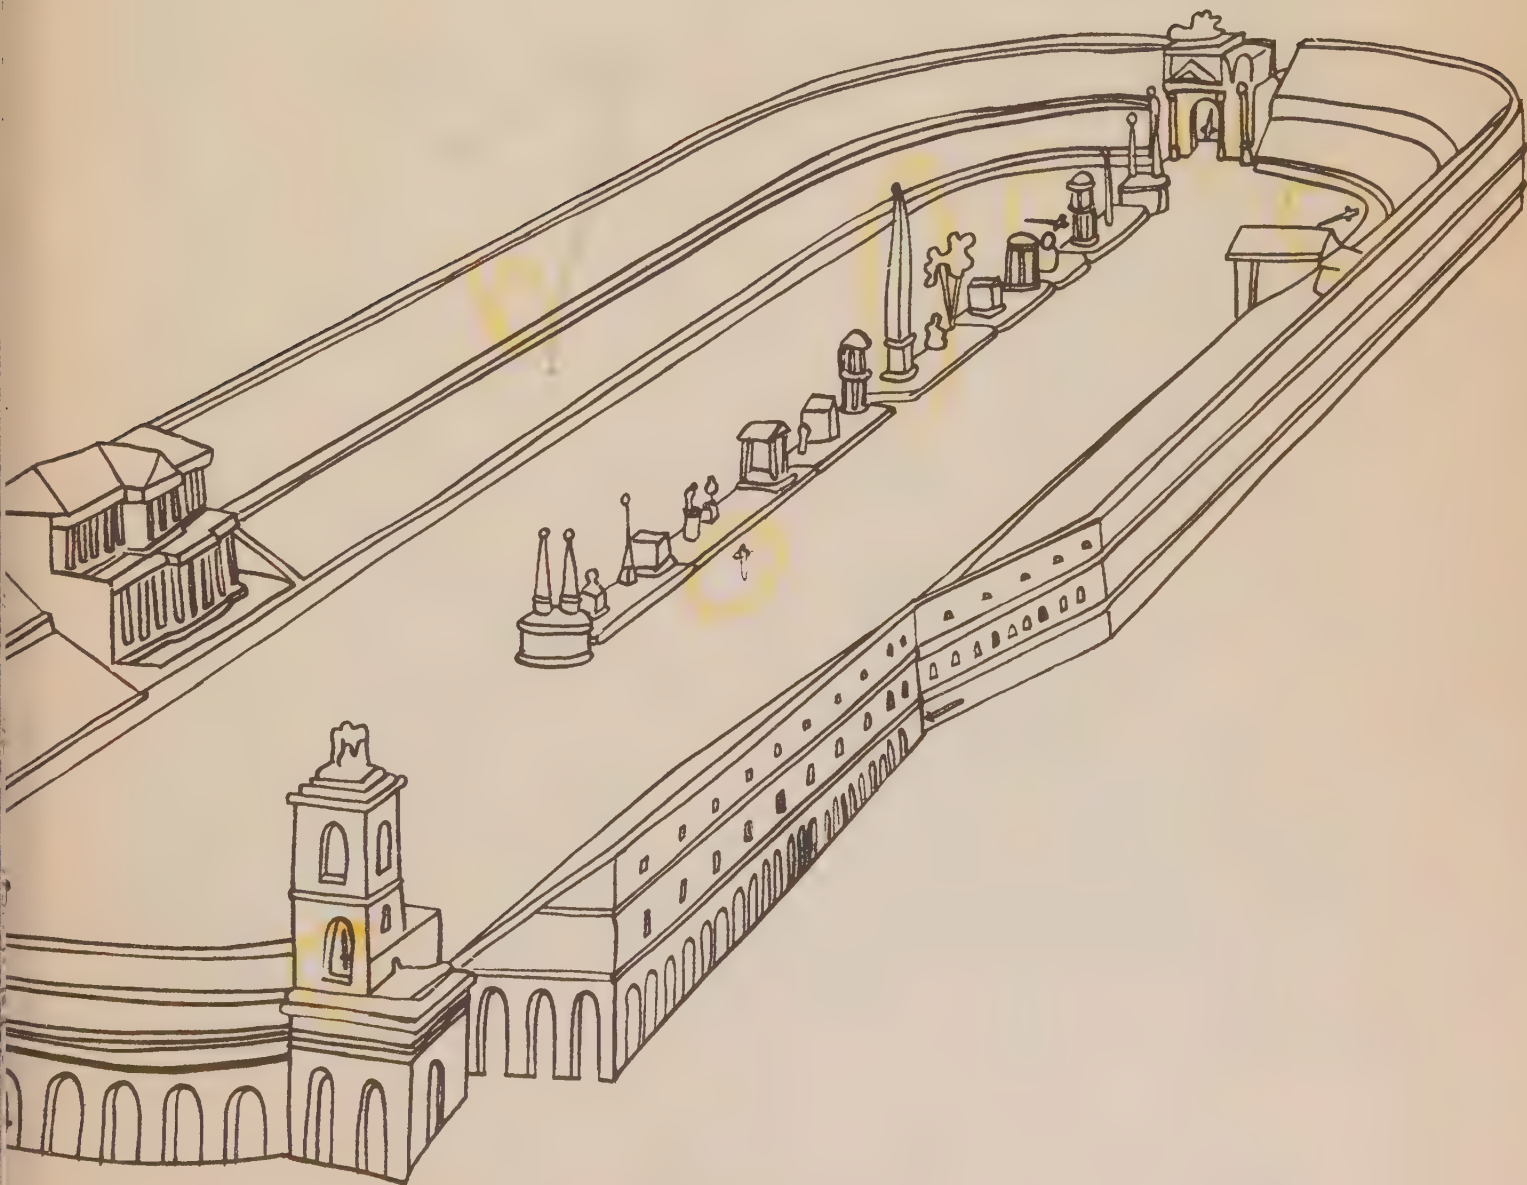

LOST SWORDS

One of the arenas in Nero's time was called the Circus Maximus. Sometimes sword fights were held there.

Some soldiers left their swords behind in the Circus Maximus in Rome.

See if you can find them all.

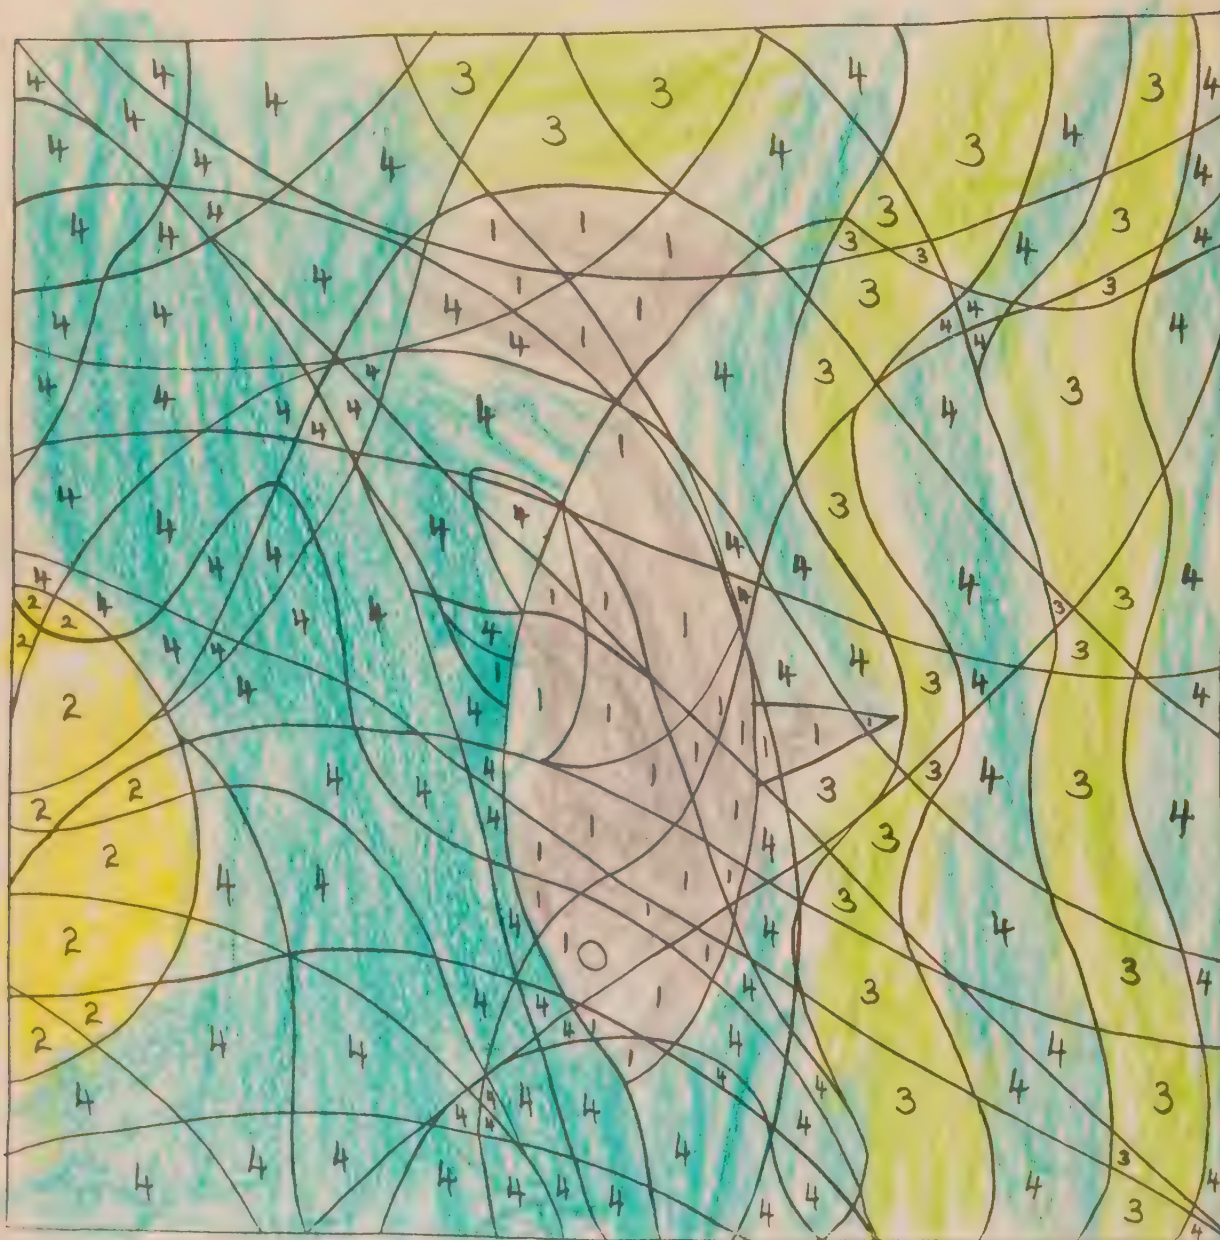

How many were there?

A SECRET SIGN

Because of the danger Christians had a secret sign.

Find the Christian secret sign in this mosaic.
Can you write down what it is?

The Christian secret sign is a

Colour code

THE SIGN OF THE FISH

Decorate the capital letters

FACT BOX

Christians had to find a way to tell each other they were Christians without the Roman soldiers finding out. They also needed a sign to show where their houses were, and where they were meeting. They would draw this sign on the ground or on doorposts and then rub it out so the Roman guards did not see it.

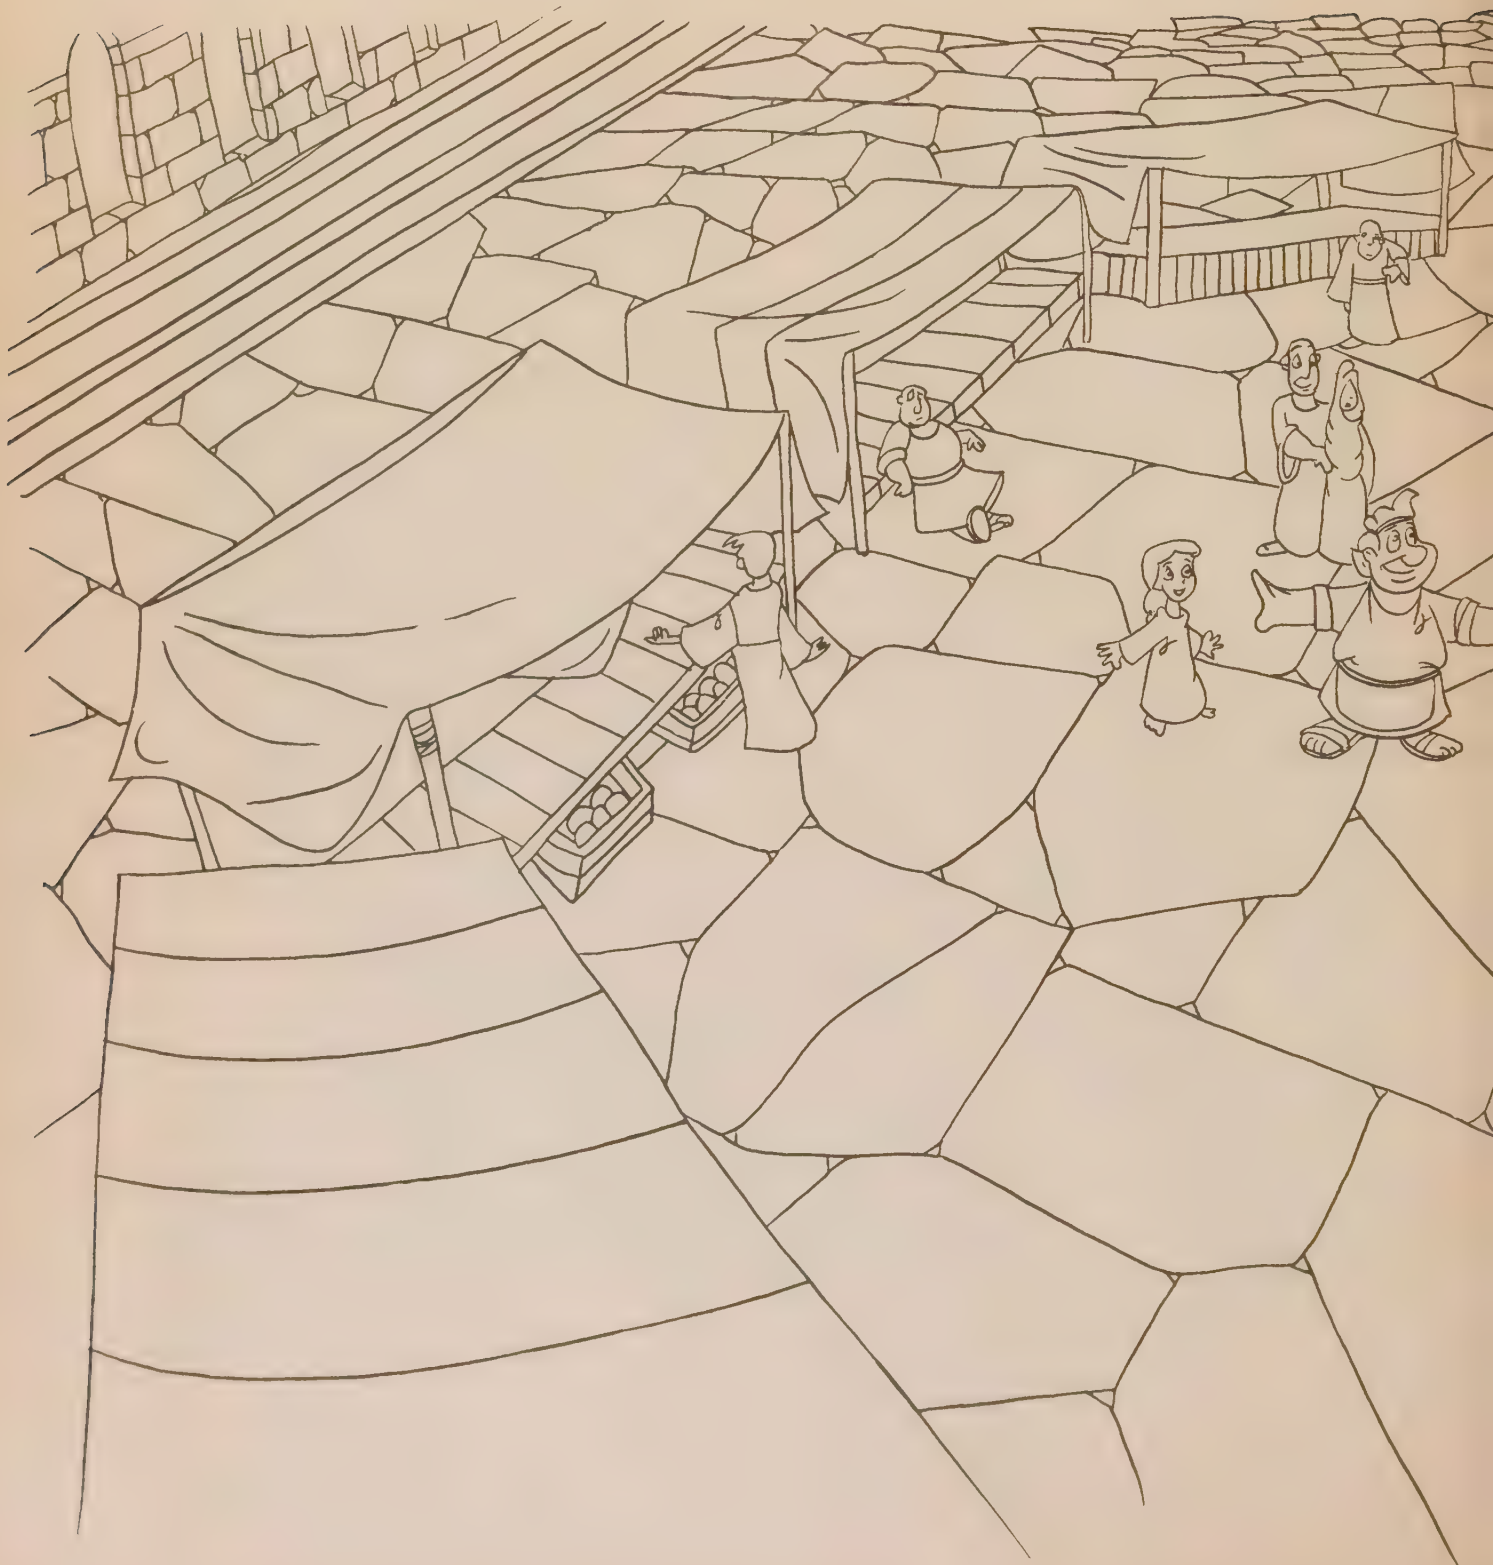

FACT BOX

The Greek word for fish is ichthus. The Greek letters are I-CH-TH-U-S. These are the first letters of the Greek words in the left hand column. The words in the right hand column show the meaning of the Greek words. That is why the Christians used the fish as their secret sign.

THE MARKET

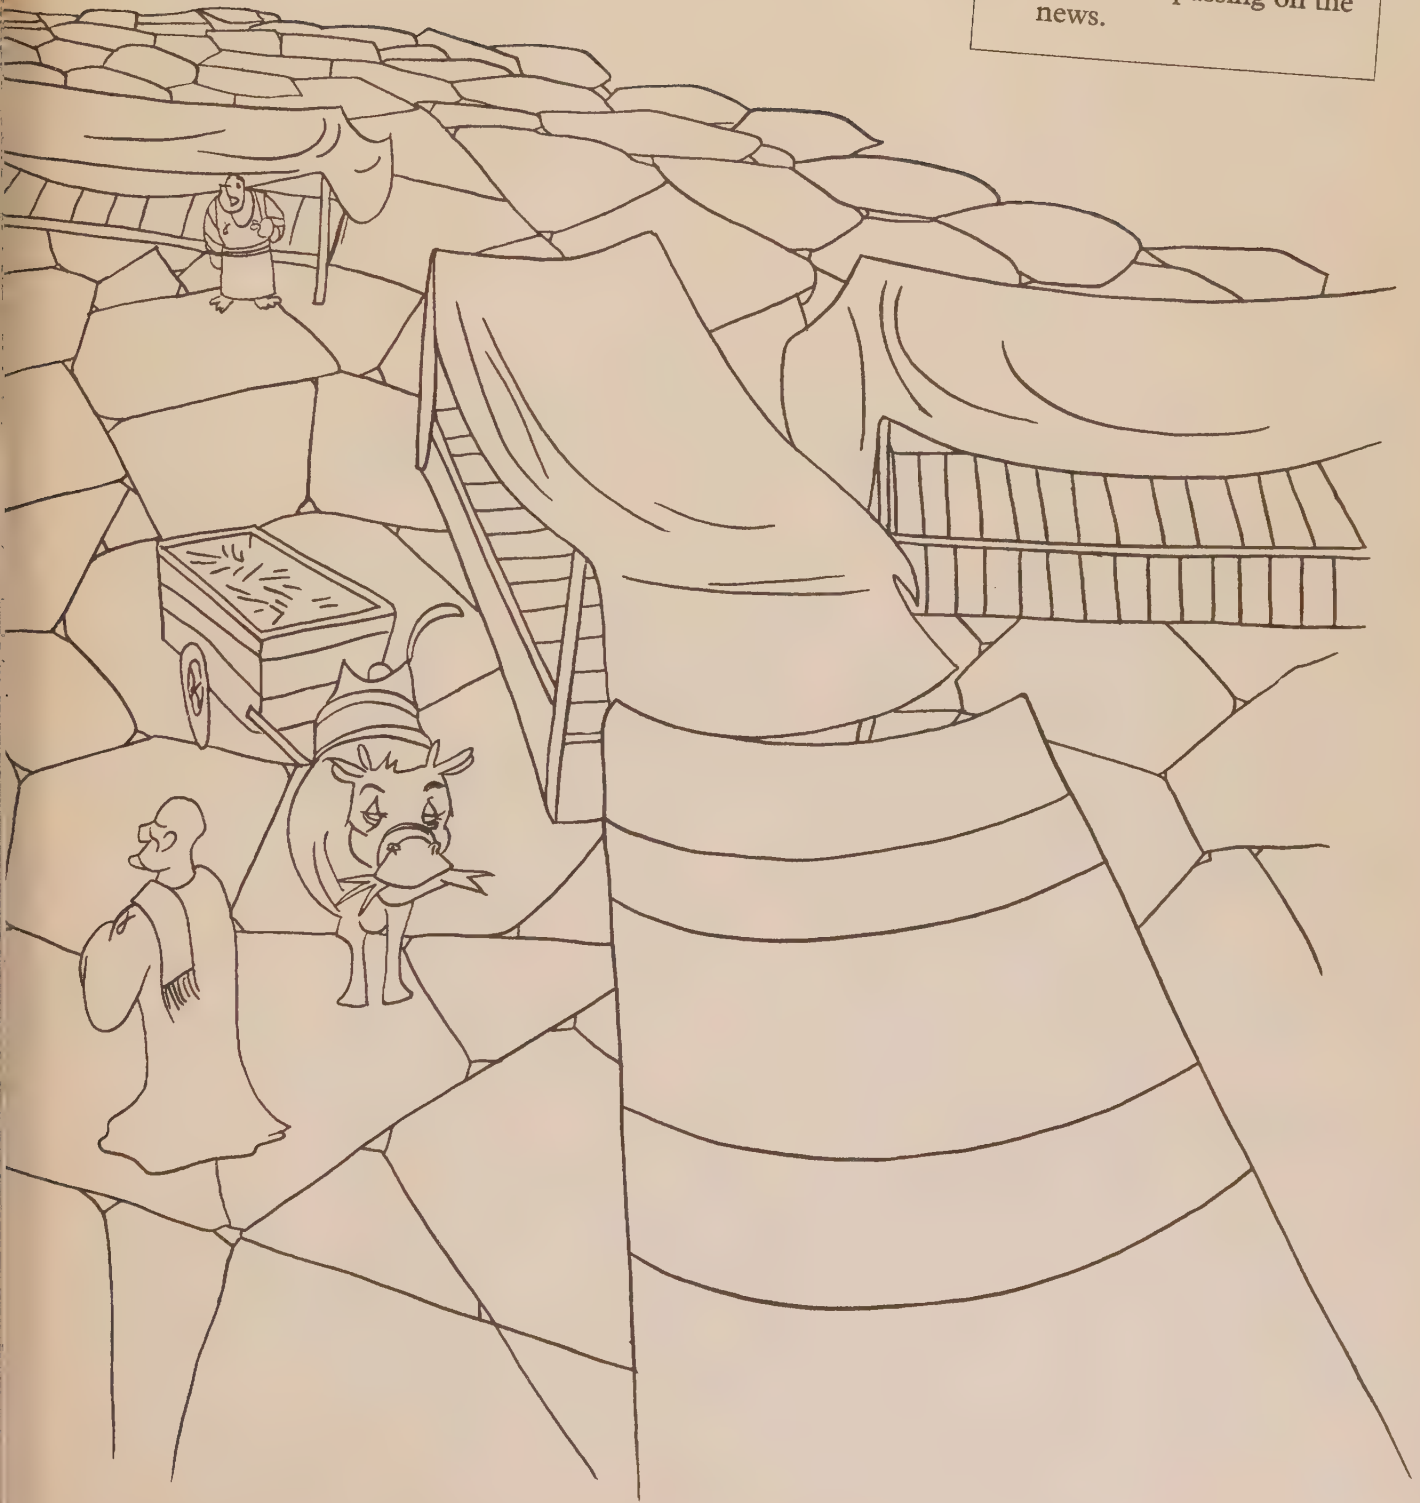

When Ben and Helena took their bread to the market, they arranged secret meetings of Christians.

Can you spot five Christians in this picture?

FACT BOX

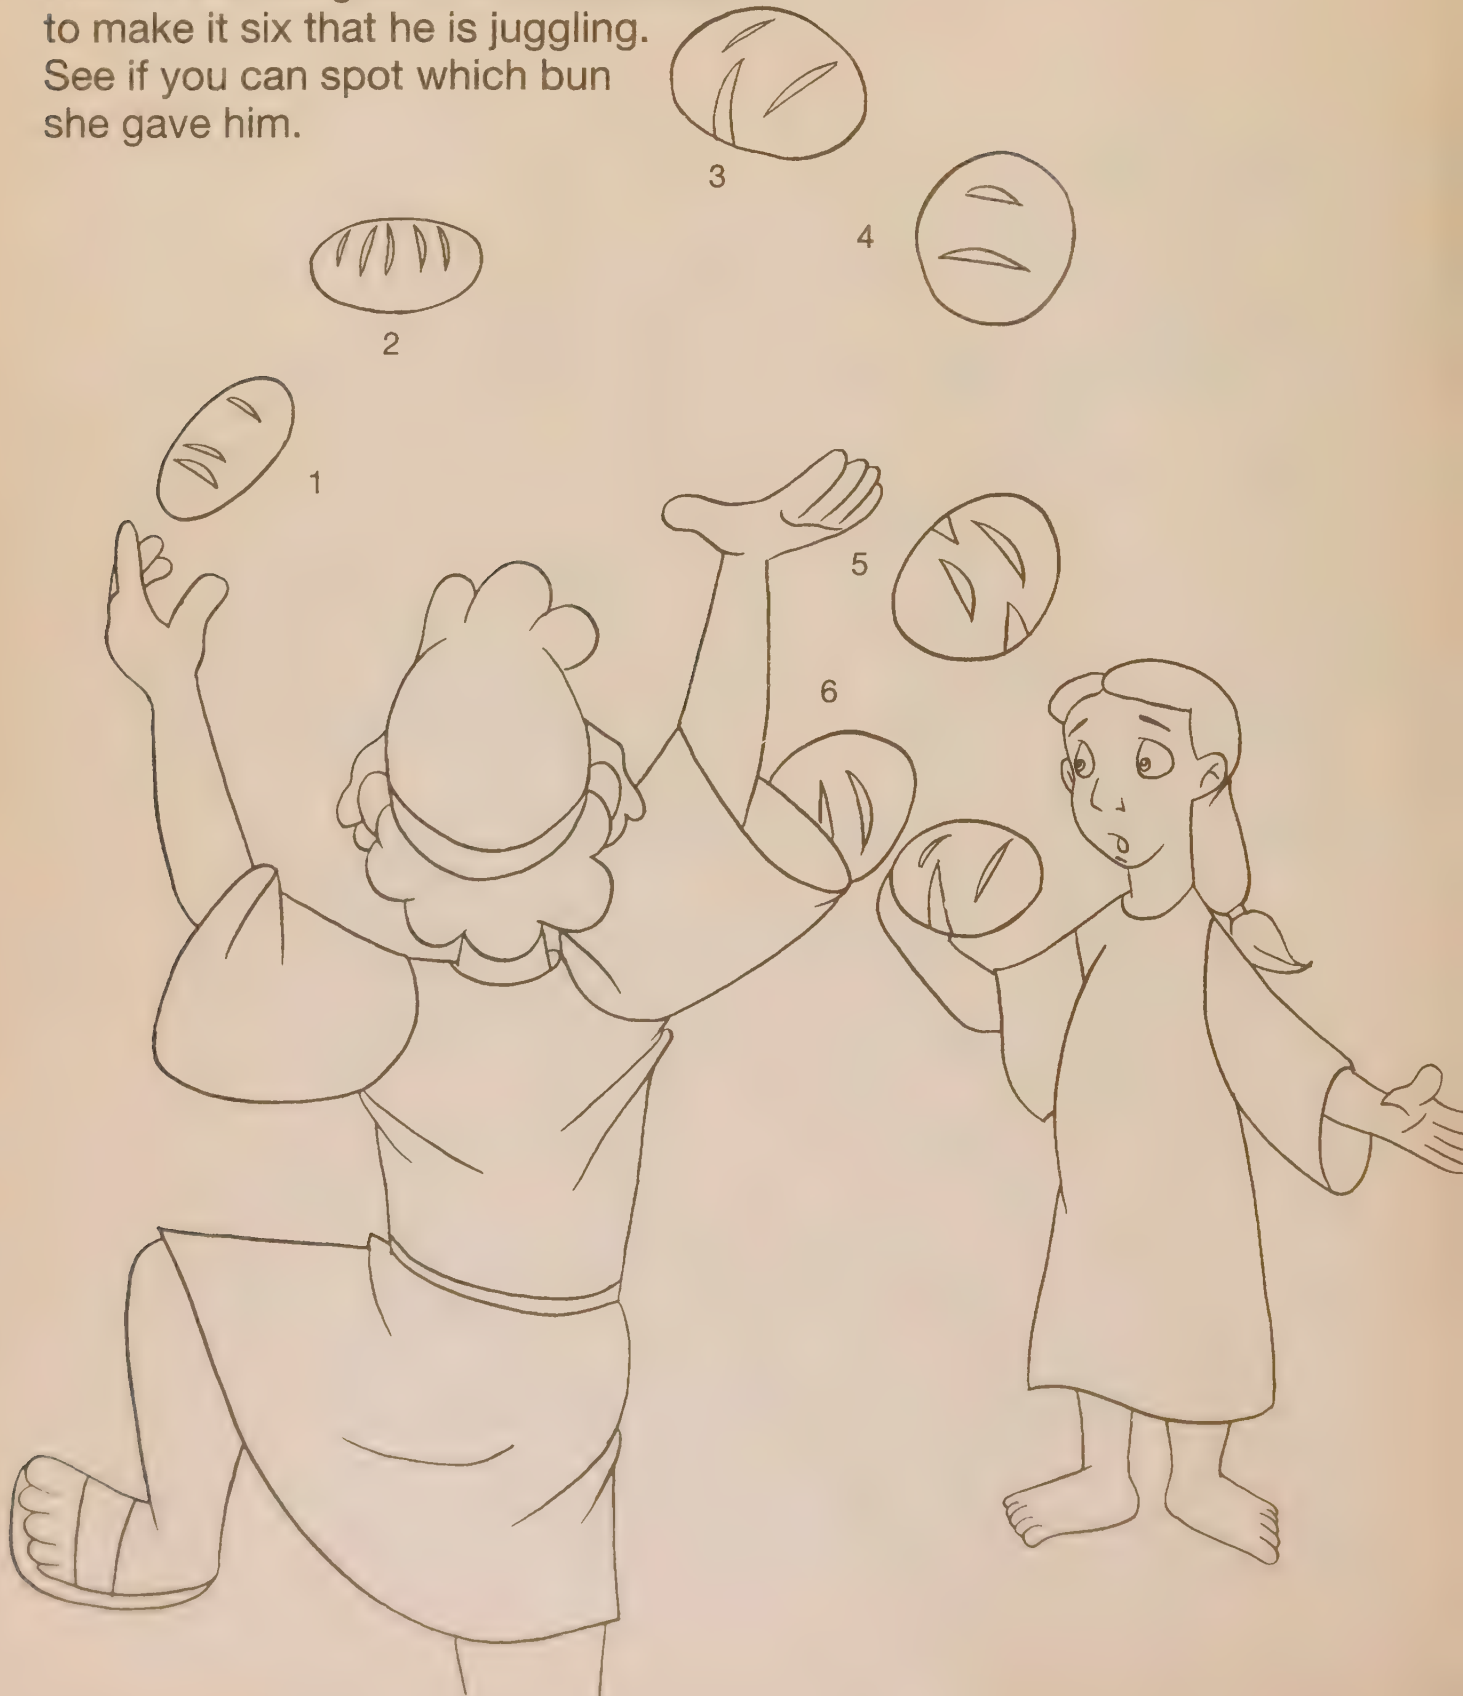

In the market there were many stalls selling all sorts of goods. Some things had come from faraway places, but many stalls sold food and drink. It was very busy with crowds of people jostling each other, meeting their friends, buying from the stalls, and passing on the news.

BUN MATCH

One day in the market Anna saw a boy juggling.

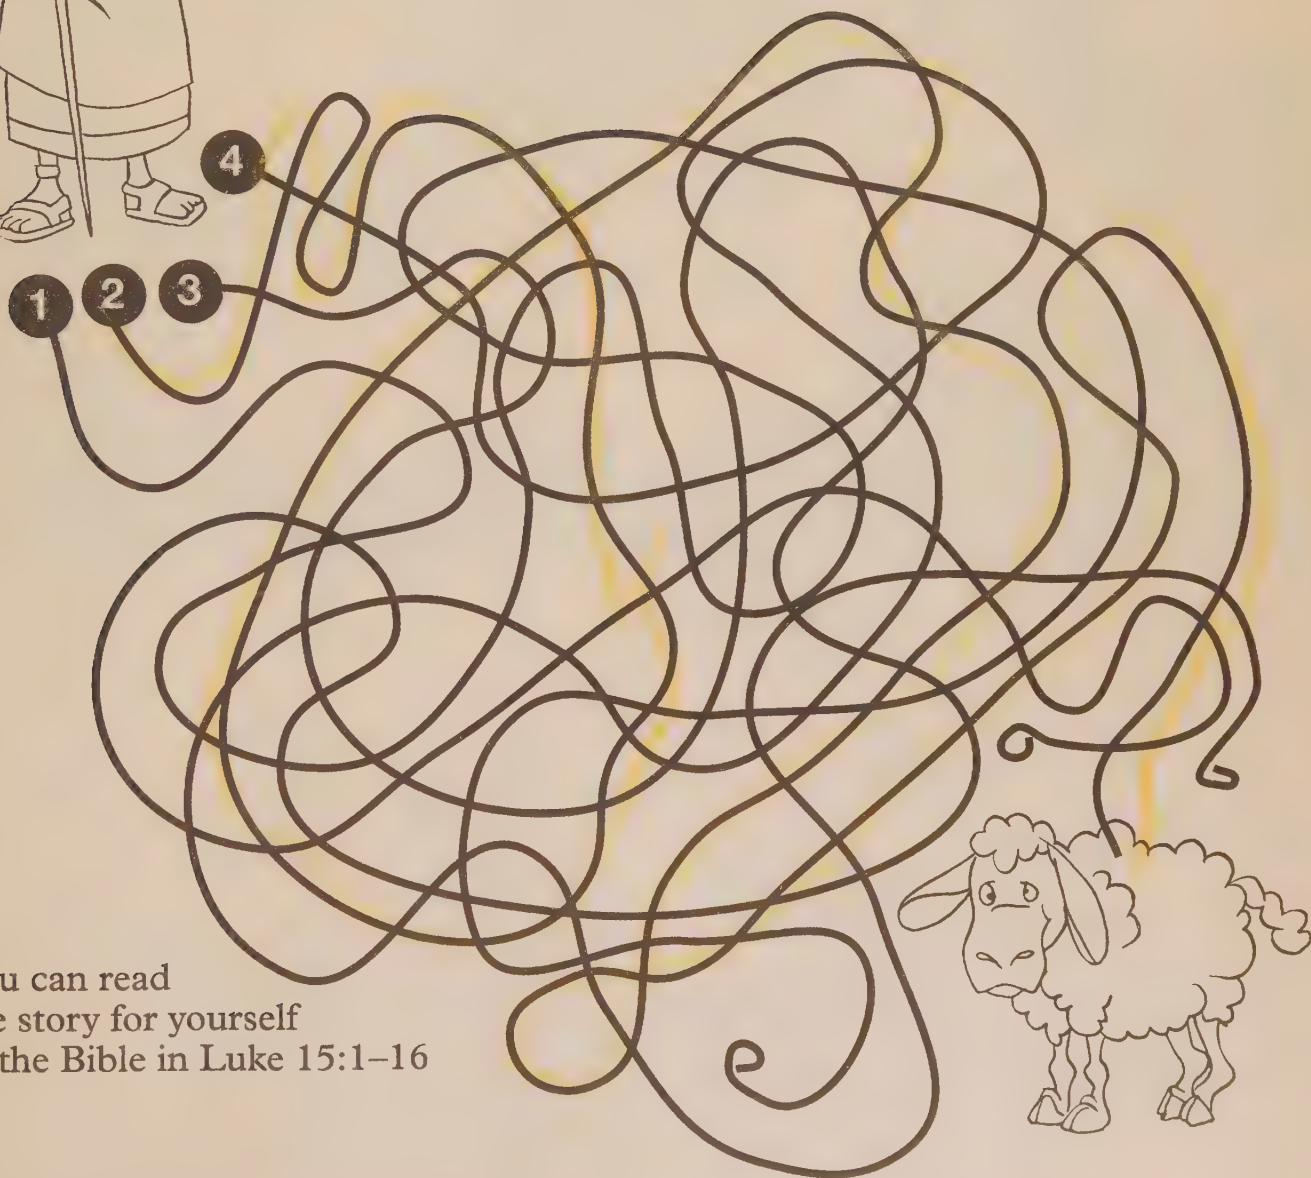

Cyrus could juggle really well.
Here Anna has given him another bun to make it six that he is juggling.
See if you can spot which bun
she gave him.

HIDE AND SHEEP

Cyrus had lost his parents. He had no home to go to, and he was all alone, like a lost sheep. Jesus once told a story about a lost sheep.

A shepherd lost a sheep and went out to look for it. Which path should the shepherd follow to find the lost sheep?

You can read the story for yourself in the Bible in Luke 15:1-16

THE AMPHITHEATRE

The Christians were often in trouble. Once Cyrus and some other Christians were caught and locked up under the amphitheatre. Here you can see Ben and the gang trying to get inside by offering their cakes to the guards.

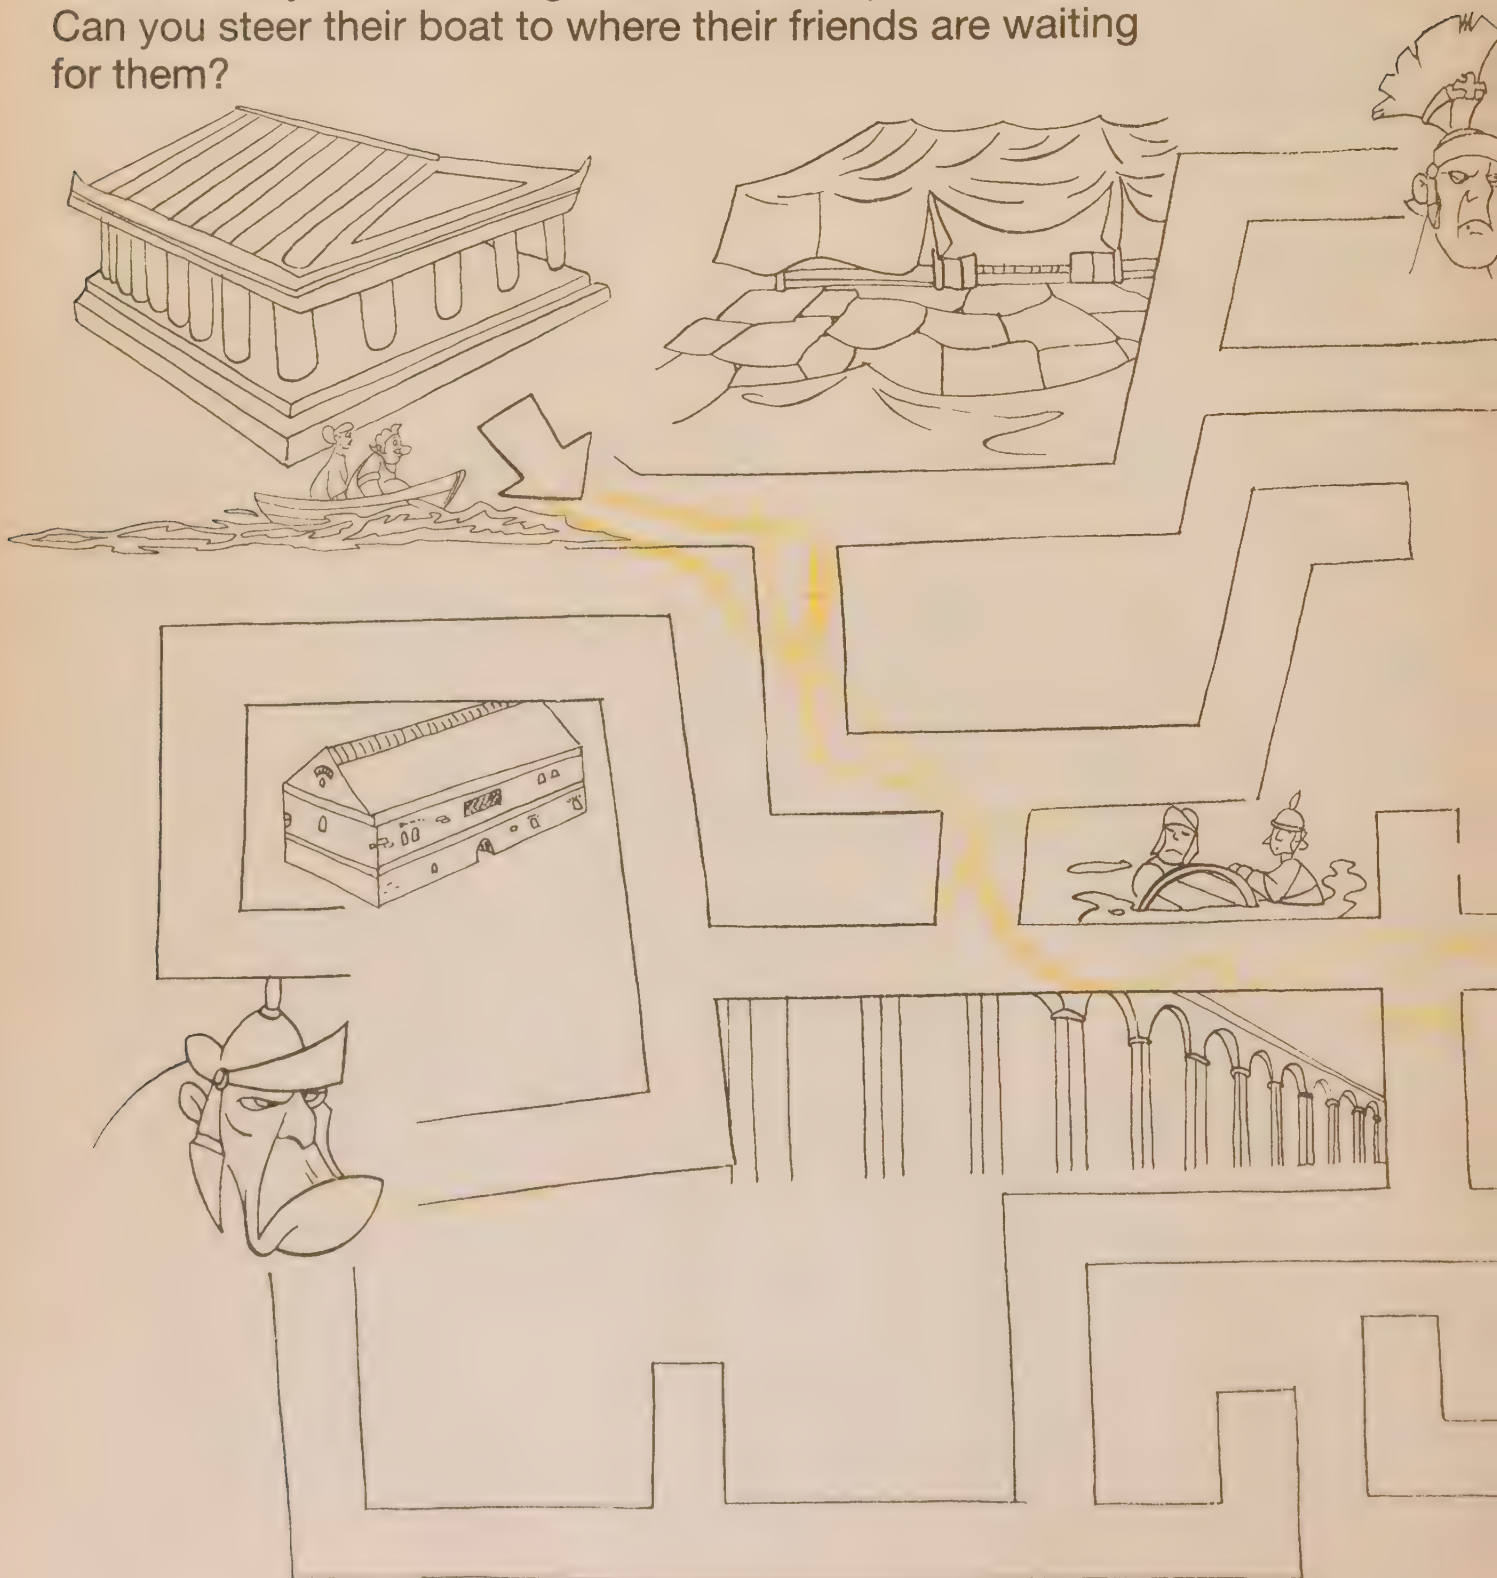

FACT BOX

The Romans built theatres with seats raised up in a half circle, so the audience could see. For sports and other events they built amphitheatres, with the seats all the way around, like a sports stadium today. Soon after Nero's time a very big arena was built in Rome. It was called the Colosseum.

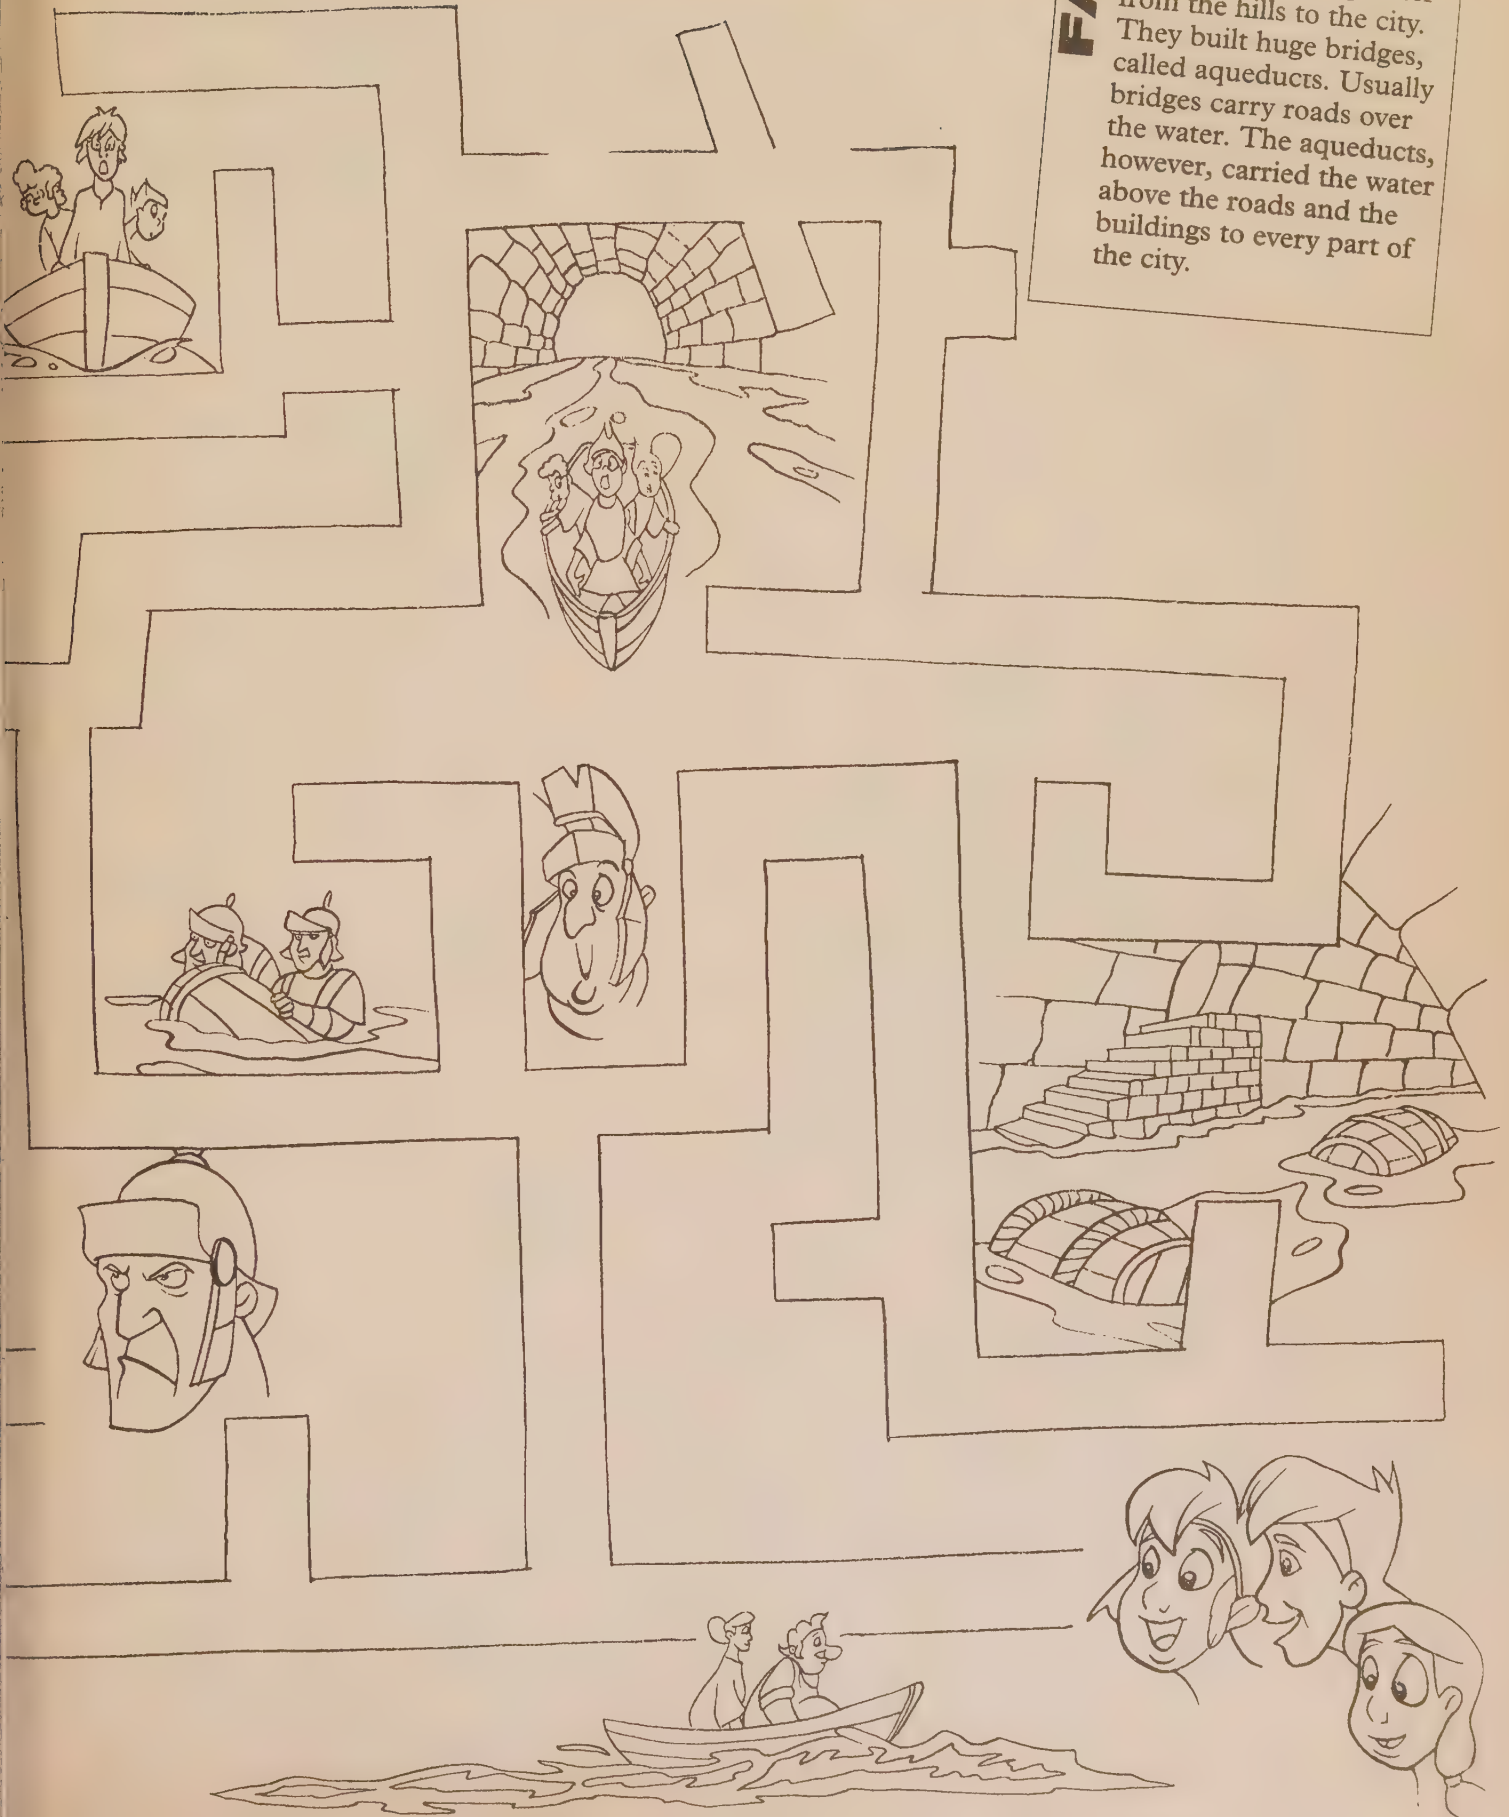

ESCAPE ON THE WATERWAY

Ben and the gang have just escaped from Nero's palace by water. First they went through an underground drain, and then they floated along the water on top of the aqueduct. Can you steer their boat to where their friends are waiting for them?

FACT BOX

The Romans invented a clever way to bring water from the hills to the city. They built huge bridges, called aqueducts. Usually bridges carry roads over the water. The aqueducts, however, carried the water above the roads and the buildings to every part of the city.

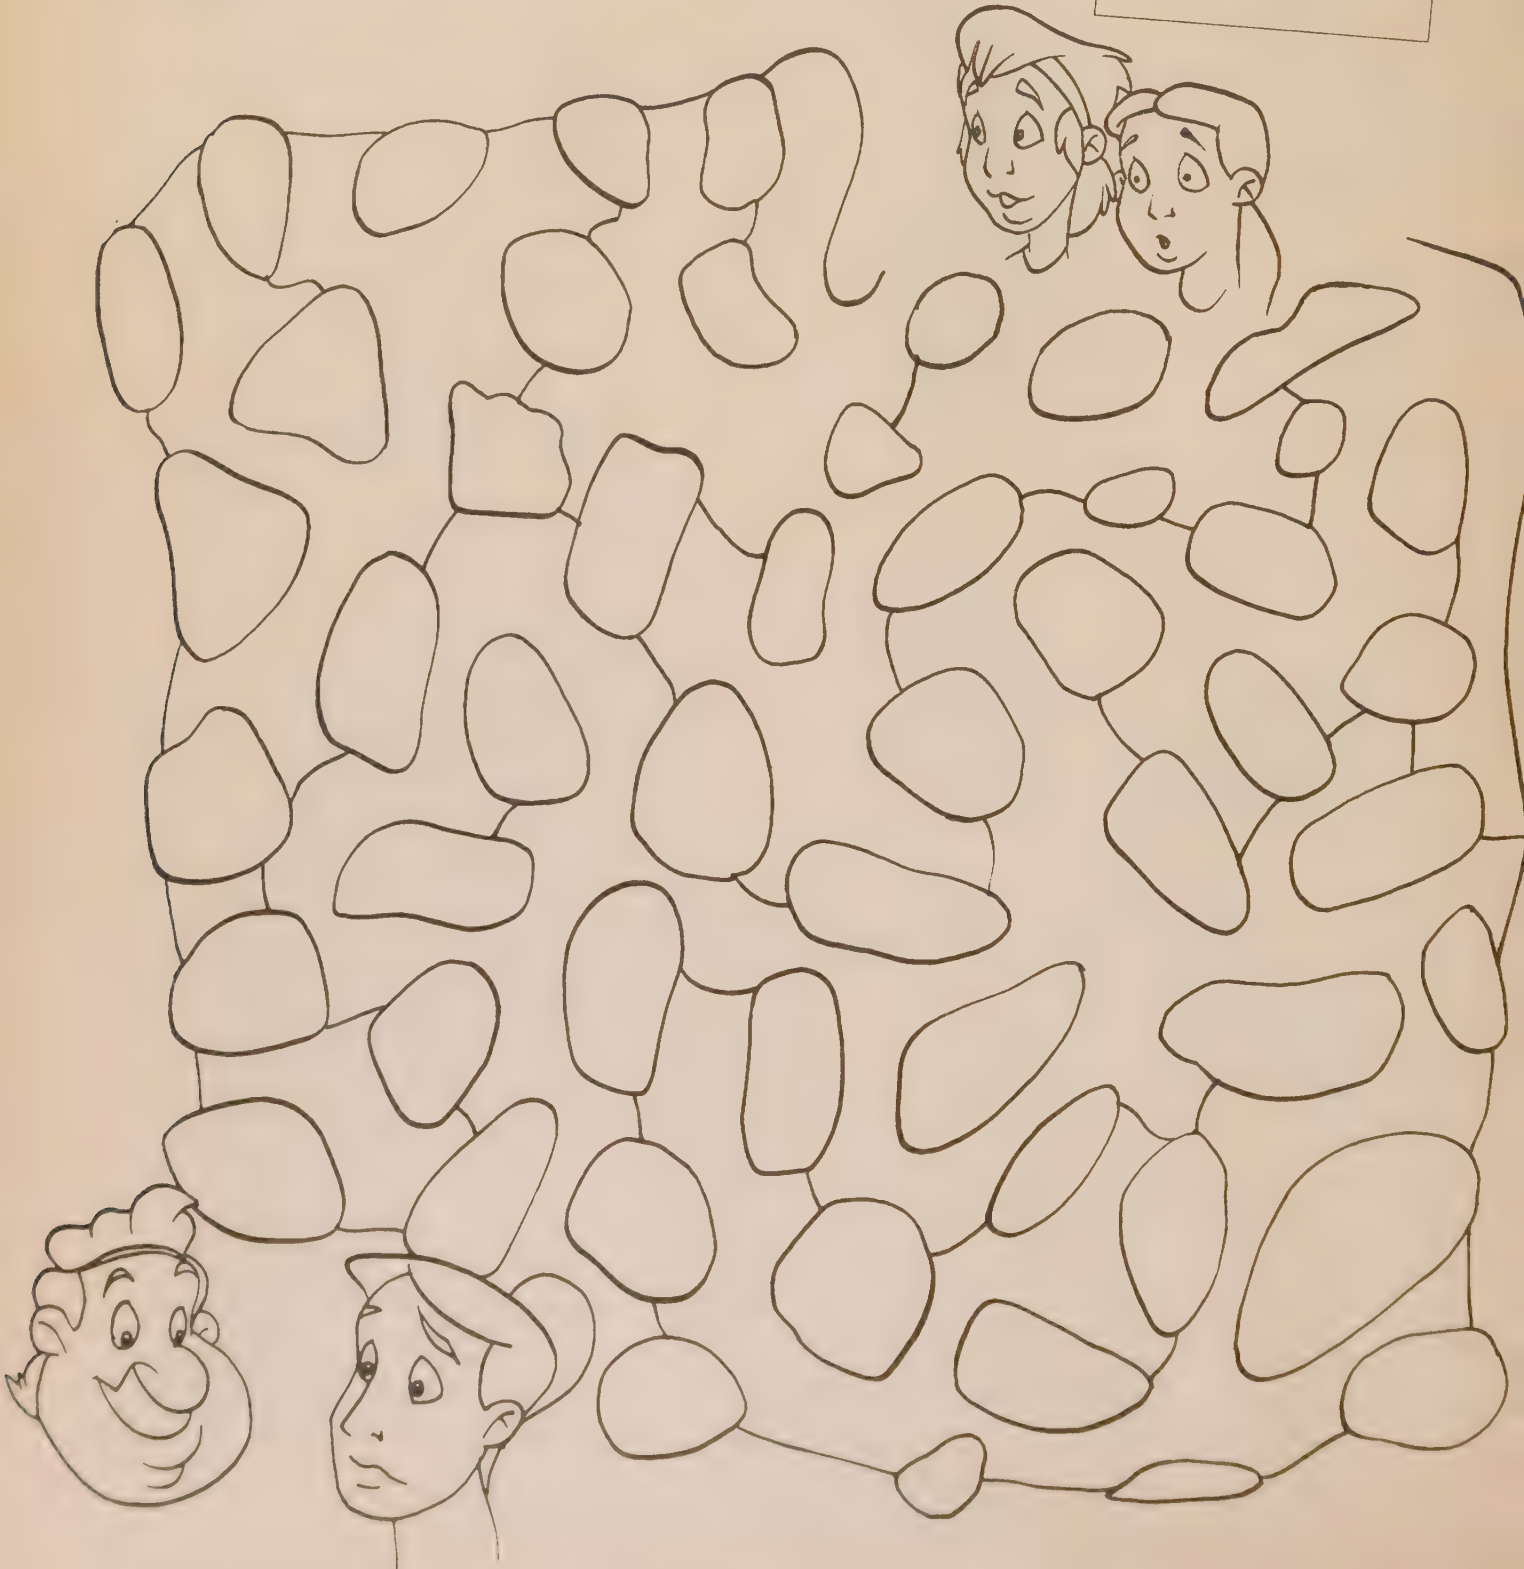

TERROR IN THE CATACOMBS

Some soldiers chased Anna and Justin, and they are trapped in the catacombs, with rockfalls ahead and soldiers behind. Can you lead them to safety, where Ben and Helena are waiting for them?

FACT BOX

The Romans buried dead people in tunnels under the city, called catacombs. Because the Romans feared the dead, Christians often hid in the catacombs to escape persecution.

BURIED IN THE CATACOMBS

On the rock below you can find some information about Peter. Put together the letters in bold capitals to find out what his work was before he met Jesus.

FACT BOX

Peter was one of Jesus' friends. His name was Simon, but Jesus gave him the name Peter, which means rock. He was put to death by the Romans, and his body was taken by the Christians to a tomb in the catacombs.

He promised to Follow Jesus

NERO AND THE FIRE

Nero has set fire to Rome.
He enjoys watching it burn.
But some bits of this picture are missing.
Match the right part to the right hole.

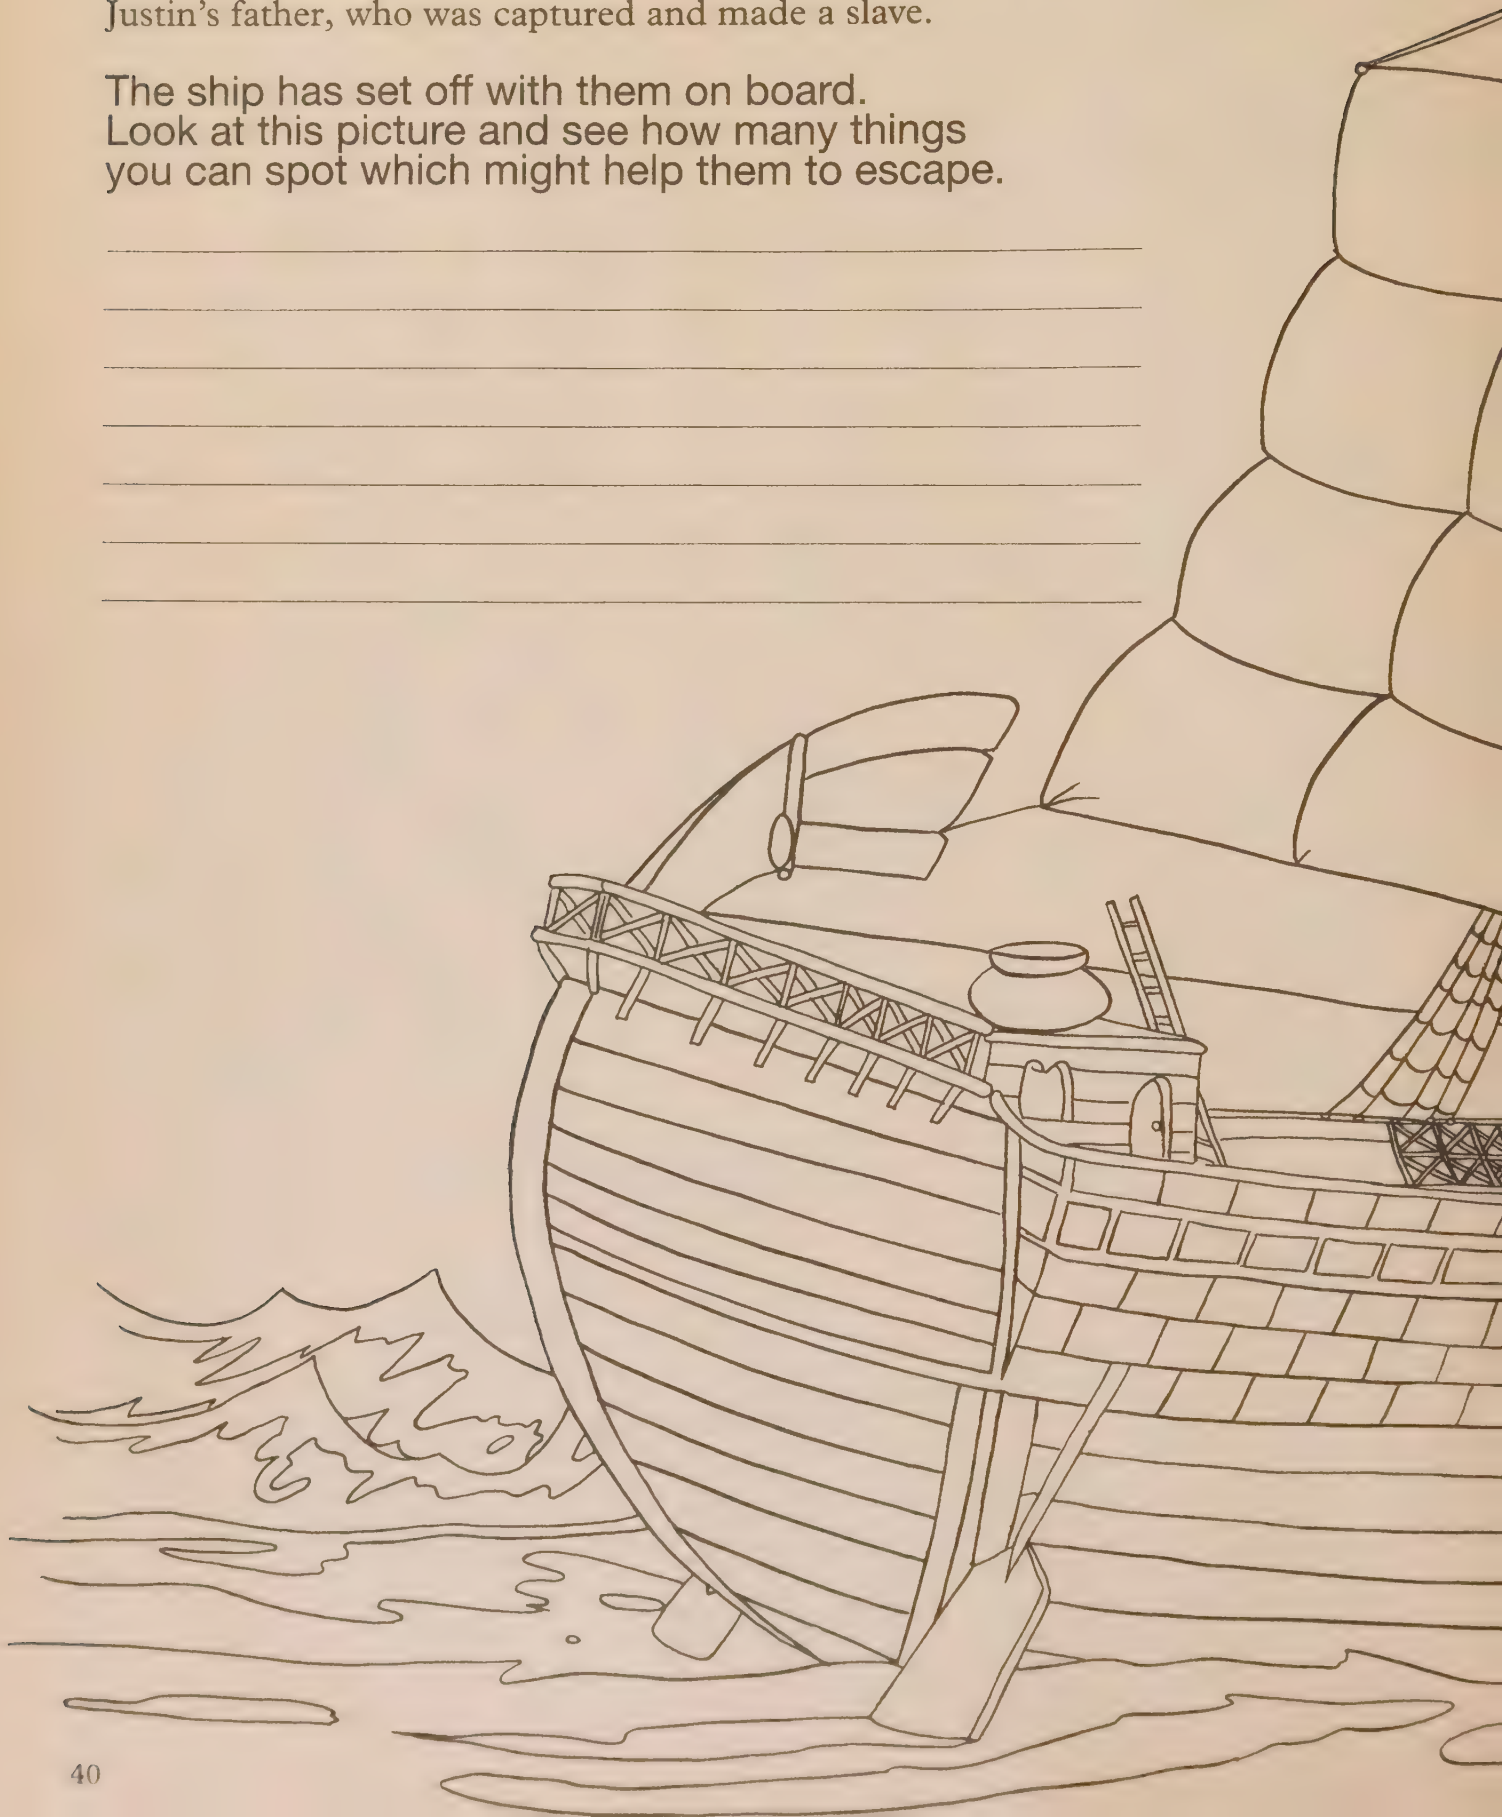

ROMAN GALLEYS

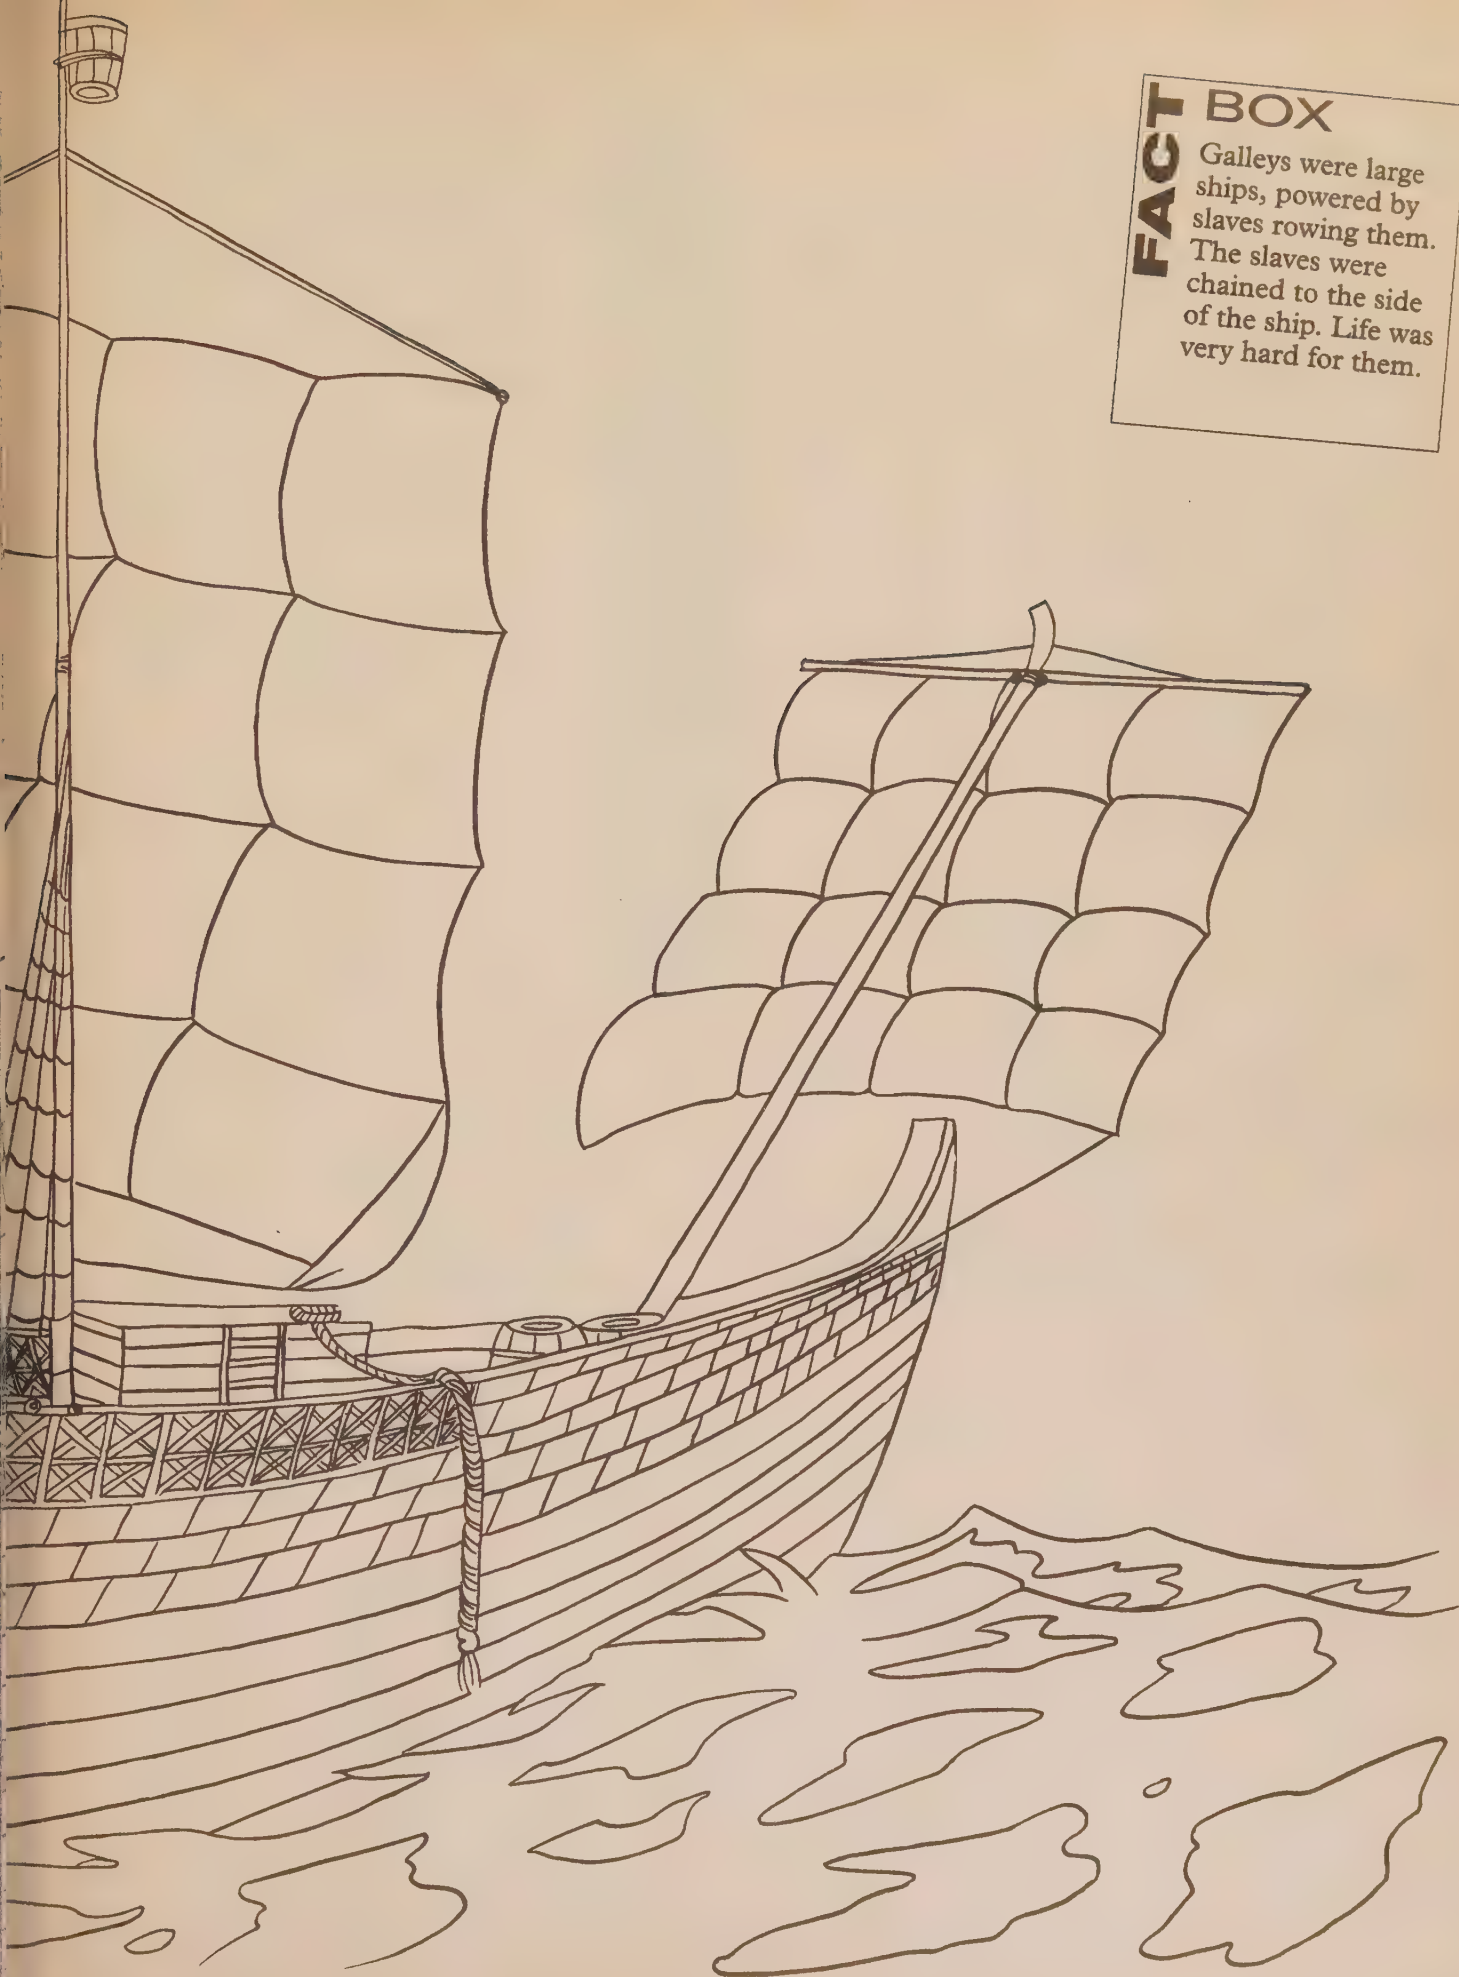

Ben and the gang have secretly got on to a galley to look for Justin's father, who was captured and made a slave.

The ship has set off with them on board.
Look at this picture and see how many things you can spot which might help them to escape.

FACT BOX

Galleys were large ships, powered by slaves rowing them. The slaves were chained to the side of the ship. Life was very hard for them.

STARGAZERS

One dark night the gang were out in the country.
Their cart had broken down. They were looking at the stars, and Ben told them a story about a star which was seen when Jesus was born.

These stars spell the Roman word for PEACE.
Find out what it is by joining them up.
